Statesman Hull, Architect Of UN, Dies At Age 83

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Cordell Hull, former secretary of state, an architect of the United Nations and champion of freer world trade, died today at the age of 83.

The Tennessee mountaineer, who served longer than any other man as secretary of state—and won a Nobel prize and the title of "father of the U.N."—died at 9 a.m. in U. S. Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md.

He suffered a stroke yesterday. There had been several others, over the years. And behind them lay a lifetime of frail health.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at Washington's National Episcopal Cathedral, where Mrs. Hull is buried. She died in March 1954. They left no children.

Hull in death evoked a flood of praise and expressions of condolences reminiscent of the sentiments voiced throughout the world when he retired from public life 11 years ago.

At Geneva, Switzerland, President Eisenhower interrupted the Big Four summit conference to mark Hull's passing with these words:

"His life was honored and his death is mourned by millions of men at home and in the far places of the earth by reason of his integrity of purpose, his high sense of obligation and his long and fruitful labors in the cause of peace."

The President ordered all American flags flown at half staff.

Hull was born in a log cabin in Tennessee and grew up to serve in all three branches of government.

As Secretary of State during three administrations of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, he held the post a record of nearly 12 years—from March 1933 to November 1944 when illness forced him out. Before that he had served 22 years in the House and 2 in the Senate. Earlier he had been a circuit judge and a state legislator in Tennessee.

He dabbled some in the officialdom of Democratic party politics, serving as national party chairman from 1921 to 1924. But one accomplishment which gave him most satisfaction was the development of the American axiom that politics stops at the water's edge—the tradition of a bipartisan foreign policy.

There were four other accomplishments which friends said he counted as his major contributions:

1. His role in founding the United Nations. It was for this that Roose-

Solon Predicts House Defeat Of Road Taxes

Rep. Steed Reports Personal Poll Of House Unfavorable

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Rep. Steed (D-Okla) said today the big road-building plan with Democratic-sponsored tax boosts will meet "the most sudden death you ever saw" if it comes to a House vote.

And Rep. Russell V. Mack (R-Wash) predicted 50 House Democrats would lose their seats in the 1956 election because of "the exorbitantly high and unfair punitive taxes they put into their highway bill."

Steed and Mack are senior members of the House Public Works Committee which approved Wednesday a 48½-billion - dollar road construction bill with $12,423,000,000 in added automotive taxes over the next 16 years to help pay the cost.

House leaders are pushing for passage of a road bill this session—Speaker Rayburn (Tex) for the bill with taxes, Republican Leader Martin (Mass) for a taxless substitute with financing through long-term bonds as proposed by President Eisenhower. But legislators have been deluged with mail since the committee action.

Mack, who backs the Eisenhower financing plan, said almost every congressman has received 500 to 1,000 pieces of mail, mostly from people "mighty mad at the Democrats."

Steed said he personally checked about 60 House members and found only 10 or so who would vote for the committee bill. He predicted the with-taxes version would be defeated by 2 or 3 to 1. Total House membership is 435.

"Nor do I think that the Republican financing has a ghost of a chance," he said, adding that even some Republicans are cool to the idea of giant expenditures without some attempt at pay-as-you-go.

HILLEVI ROMBIN
From Miss Sweden to Miss Universe

Swedish Beauty Captures Title Of 'Miss Universe'

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 23 (AP)—A tall linguistic lady from Sweden, graceful in every motion and five different languages, reigned today as the new Miss Universe.

Hillevi Rombin, 21 - year - old blonde from the university town of Uppsala, became Scandinavia's second winner in the four-year history of the international beauty contest.

The largest and stateliest girl ever to capture the beauty crown was scheduled to preside over her coronation ball, final event of the 10-day pageant, tonight.

Unlike her famous predecessor from Sweden — Greta Garbo — the Nordic beauty said she doesn't think she'll go home — at least not for a while. She is slated to begin a movie career Monday in the Universal-International picture, "The Benny Goodman Story."

"It's too early to tell how I will like the movies but I will give it a try," said Miss Sweden, whose poise and knowledge of languages impressed all observers. She even acted as an interpreter for some of the other contestants. She is fluent in German, French, Spanish and English in addition to her native tongue.

A regal 5-foot-7 and weighing 130 pounds, the blue-eyed Miss Rombin measures 36 in the bust

Committee Raps Russian Violation Of Thousand Pacts

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee said today that Soviet Russia had broken virtually every one of a thousand treaties and agreements made in the past 38 years and raised questions about any "workable agreement with communism."

The release of the bulky study just as President Eisenhower and other Big Four leaders, including Russian, wound up a Geneva conference appeared to question possible results of such a meeting.

The study came from the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and was released with a statement by its chairman, Sen. Eastland (D-Miss).

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) and other members of the nine-senator group frequently have bitterly protested foreign policies and foreign aid programs, both under President Eisenhower and Democratic administrations.

Eastland said the study, made by the staff of the subcommittee, proved that "in the 38 short years since the Soviet Union came into existence, its government has broken its word to virtually every country to which it ever gave a signed promise."

"I seriously doubt," Eastland added, "if during the whole history of civilization any great nation has ever made as perfidious a record as this in so short a time."

Eastland went on to ask:

"Is the signature of any Communist government on any document worth the paper it is written on?"

"When a Communist government does sign an agreement, what can

Growing Furore

Air Secretary's Outside Business Interests Set For Full Public Hearing

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—A growing furore over the outside business interests of Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott erupted today into plans for a full-scale public hearing.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee chairman Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) set the hearing for 2 p.m. (EDT) Monday.

The group's four Democratic members voted unanimously for the public airing. The three Republicans merely voted "present," taking a stand which neither blocked nor supported the action.

At issue is whether Talbott improperly used his high government post to promote his private interest as a special partner in Paul B. Mulligan & Co. He has said he gets more than $50,000 a year from profits of the New York efficiency engineering firm, but has defended his actions as "clean" and "not improper."

The subcommittee action, at a closed meeting, followed a letter from Talbott correcting testimony he gave Thursday. He said then he couldn't recall discussing renewal of a Mulligan contract with

Charles H. West Dies After Short Illness; Rites Set

Charles Henry West, 306 South College avenue, died yesterday at the St. Francis hospital following a brief illness.

A native of Newton County, Mississippi, Mr. West had for the past several years resided with his daughter, Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, director of publications at Northeast State.

Funeral services will be held today at 5 p.m. at the Mulhearn chapel. Officiating will be Rev. Wayne Buck, minister of music and education of the College Place Baptist Church, and D. C. Black, superintendent of the Baptist Children's home. Interment under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral home will follow in Memorial Park cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be President Lewis C. Slater of Northeast State, Dean William M. Smith and Dr. W. R. Hammond, both of the college faculty, Homer Chilton, L. G. Hunt, L. N. Blair, C. C. Lindley, all of this city, and Lester Johnson of Holly Ridge.

Honorary pallbearers include the Bell Memorial Bible Class, College Place Baptist Church, of which Mr. West was an active member, the staffs of the Monroe News-Star, Monroe Morning World, the Pow-Wow and Chacahoula, Northeast publications.

Mr. West was a retired lumberman at the time he came to Monroe to make his home and he had been assocated with lumber mills in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

Active for many years in the Masonic Order, he had been worshipful master for ten years of Leaf River Lodge in Mississippi prior to his becoming a member of the Hattiesburg, Miss. chapter No. 114. Until the time of his death he continued active participation in church and Sunday School work.

Besides his daughter, the deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sam Bowman of Brookhaven, Miss., several nieces and nephews.

Eisenhower And Party Returning To U. S. Capital

PRESTWICK, Scotland, Sunday, July 24 —President Eisenhower's plane Columbine III made a midnight refuelling stop at this little Scottish airport and then resumed its flight from the Geneva summit conference to Washington at 12:35 a.m. today.

Secretary of State Dulles and other conference delegates, traveling in a second Constellation, took off four minutes later after the hour-long refuelling stop.

Both planes were expected to touch down at Stephensville, Nfld., for a second refuelling stop in the early morning and to reach Washington between 8 and 9 a.m. (EST).

The President did not leave the plane. He had gone to bed in his cabin a few minutes before the landing.

The airport is only a few miles from the President's Scottish castle home at Culzean.

Asst. press secretary Murray Snyder said the President "felt tired' after his week's work at Geneva and had said he would have enjoyed spending a few days at his castle.

Traveling in the specially fitted Constellation with the President were Mrs. Eisenhower, and their son, Maj. John Eisenhower.

In a second Constellation, which landed a few moments later, were Secretary of State Dulles, special assistant to the President, Harold Stassen, and other conference delegates.

Mrs. Eisenhower, Stassen and Maj. Eisenhower left the plane briefly during the short refuelling stop to stroll at the airport building.

Mrs. Eisenhower bought a few small gifts and chatted with airport personnel.

Egypt Parades Military Might; Threatens Israel

CAIRO, July 23—UP—Egypt Saturday paraded her growing military might and warned that she is prepared to wage war against neighboring Israel "if our frontiers are violated."

The blunt warning to Israel was made by Minister of War Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer in a speech keynoting a huge military parade celebrating the third anniversary of the regime of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The nation flexed its military muscles in the most impressive parade in Egypt's military history. Tens of thousands of soldiers, sailors, airmen, parachutists, cadets and National Guardsmen goose-stepped for four hours past the stand from which Nasser reviewed the parade.

Amer, in his speech preceding the parade, promised that the Egyptian armed forces "won't let the enemy enter Egypt."

"But we are ready to take war into the enemy's lands," he said.

Nine members of Egypt's revolutionary council stood beside Nasser as the nation's newly mechanized armored force rolled past. Included were 30 British-built Centurion tanks and several scores of American - built Sherman tanks, motorized artillery and other armored vehicles.

Amer told the armed forces that Egypt was pledged to defend any Arab country threatened by aggression.

UN Group To Seek Solution To Arms Race

Foreign Ministers Meet In October For German Talks

GENEVA, July 23 (AP)—The Big Four powers finished their historic summit meeting tonight in agreement on a quick-starting and long-range plan to relax world tension and improve confidence among nations.

Their decisions, reached after a week of tense but strangely friendly conference, called for an Aug. 29 meeting of the United Nations subcommittee on Disarmament to take up the proposals made here.

They directed their foreign ministers to meet here in October to work out a plan for reuniting divided Germany and giving Europe a security plan designed to calm those who fear another German holocaust.

The foreign ministers also were directed to study the results of the disarmament subcommittee's work and to seek means of bringing about progressive elimination of East-West barriers.

The West believed it had won something of a victory in the negotiations. If victory it was, it looked so slender that it could not antagonize the Russians.

Weeks ago in Washington, State Department officials made clear they would consider the conference a success if they could come out of it with an agreement to discuss reunification of Germany jointly with a security plan covering all Europe.

That agreement was reached after bitter debate over details so small perhaps only a diplomat would consider them vital. But these details caused endless hours of debate between the Eastern and Western foreign ministers meeting simultaneously with the Big Four.

The conference finished in a hum of racing motors and airplane engines. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles raced directly from the conference to their planes and headed for Washington.

In the last conference session tonight Eisenhower voiced confidence that something had been done.

"In this final hour of our assembly,' he said, "it is my judgment that the prospects of a lasting peace with justice, well-being and broader freedom are brighter. The dangers of the overwhelming tragedy of modern war are less."

Here is what the leaders accomplished at the summit:

1. They directed the foreign ministers to consider jointly the problem of Germany and European security, "taking account of the close

Academy's Funds Restored By Vote Of Senate Group

WASHINGTON, July 23—UP—The Senate Appropriations committee Saturday restored $79,527,000 for construction of the new Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

The academy construction money was put back in a supplemental appropriation bill totaling about $2 billion which had been gutted in the House through a series of unusual parliamentary objections on the floor.

The Senate committee also restored most of the money that the armed services had asked to finance a long list of military construction projects at installations both in this country and abroad.

The committee also approved $60 million for free distribution of Salk polio vaccine. The administration had asked for $30 million.

A total of $270.8 million was approved for atomic plants and equipment. This included $25 million for a surface warship power plant but nothing for President Eisenhower's proposed atomic peace ship.

The House had voted $264,577,000 for atomic plants and equipment but had directed that $101 million of this be taken from unobligated operating funds. All of the Senate committee appropriation represented new money and the $101 million would be left in the operating fund.

The House refused to appropriate anything for the Air Force Academy because of objections to ultra-modernistic designs, including large expanses of glass proposed by air force architects.

The Air Force revised the designs along less modernistic lines and with much less glass before the Senate committee acted upon the appropriation. Senate committee members generally approved the new designs and restored the construction money on the understanding that they would be followed.

Four Pilots Freed By Reds Returned To Air Force Duty

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Four American fighter pilots released by the Chinese Reds last month after long imprisonment have been returned to full duty by the Air Force.

An Air Force spokesman said today that this action was taken after a full review of the case by a board of officers.

The pilots, who said they made false "confessions" under pressure after being captured during the Korean War, are:

Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., Swea City, Iowa; 1st Lt. Roland W. Parks, Omaha, Neb.; and 1st Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.

Their return to full duty apparently ends the case. In their "confessions," they said they had flown across the Yalu boundary into North China under orders.

The Air Force spokesman said that in line with procedure followed in the cases of returned prisoners of war they met a board of officers who reviewed all the circumstances of their "confinement, treatment, and present condition" and then returned them to duty.

The four are now stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base, where they have been helping in the preparation of material on how service men should conduct themselves if taken prisoner.

Retired General Facing Trial By Military Court

CHANUTE AFB Ill., July 23—UP—The Air Force Saturday disclosed it has brought charges that could lead to a courtmartial for Maj. Gen. Byron E. Gates, recently retired commander of Chanute.

Gates, a 60-year-old World War I pilot who retired May 31, was accused of favoritism to certain private businesses at the base during his six years in command.

Lt. Col. R. H. Clark, public relations officer, said the allegations included that Gates:

1. Gave "preferential treatment" to and "sponsored" an auto insurance company and a life insurance company, urging personnel under his command to buy stock in the latter firm.

2. Made false official statements to investigating agents and to a superior officer.

3. Accepted $7,000 from a life insurance company "for services to be rendered by him because of his official position."

4. Wrongly used government workers to develop and administer a housing project next to the 15,000-man air base.

The Air Force named Maj. Gen. John H. McCormick, commander of Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., to investigate the charges and decide whether a courtmartial is "justified."

Gates had 38 years of active duty when he retired, and was believed to have been the last World War I pilot to leave service.

When he was honored on his retirement, Gates spoke proudly of his work in getting housing and other facilities for his men.

An Air Force spokesman said Gates would be recalled to active duty "very soon" and remain on that status until the inquiry is completed.

One Person Dies As Rainstorm Hits Atlanta Region

ATLANTA, July 23 (AP)—One person died and property damage may be reckoned in the hundreds of thousands of dollars as Atlanta today experienced its worst cloud burst in years.

A man, identified as Winslow Jones, 32, was swept into a storm sewer while swimming in a flooded street. Police said his body probably never will be recovered.

Witnesses said Jones was swimming with several others when he was sucked into a manhole where the cover had been washed away

A fire department ladder, lowered into the manhole in an attempt to save Jones, was swept down the sewer by the swift current.

Many low areas in the city were flooded. Tightly closed automobiles were reported floating at the municipal market near the center of the city. Hundreds of other vehicles were covered or partically covered in the flood.

The Atlanta weather bureau said only about one-half inch of rain fell at its observatory during the storm. But forecaster John T. Schilling estimated between one and two inches of rain fell at his home in suburban East Point between 2 and 3 o'clock.

Trained Reserve Force May Allow Military Cutback

Vinson Predicts Long-Term Need For Large Army

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) said tdoay this country will have to maintain a military force of about 2,850,000 men for at least several more years.

Vinson, who is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said "there can be no reduction of our regular forces" beyond present long-range levels until a new reserve program produces a trained standby force of 2,900,000 men — perhaps in 1962.

He predicted the House will give "overwhelming approval" Monday to a compromise compulsion-incentive bill to build up this standby force from the present 700,000-man trained reserve. Senate approval is expected probably later Monday.

President Eisenhower has called the reserve buildup a vital bulwark to plans for reducing the standing forces from over three million men to a "long-haul" total of 2,850,000 by mid-1956.

"When we attain a trained ready reserve of 2,900,000 men we will be able to give serious consideration to a reduction in our standing force" below the 1956 goal, Vinson said.

"...if international conditions permit," he added in a statement and interview, "we will be able to make reductions from the long-range planned strength of 2,850,000 men in our regular forces." But he added no further reductions could be considered before then, barring a disarmament treaty.

The compromise reserve bill, reconciling differences in Senate and House measures, is designed to attract more volunteers to the reserves and give the Pentagon some authority to compel reservists to keep up minimum training.

Pentagon officials said that, under their original proposals, they planned a two-million-man reserve by late 1959. The compromise bill in effect postpones the start of the buildup two years by applying its main provisions only to men entering the service after the measure becomes law.

No one will say now when the maximum reserve force can be expected. Much depends upon how many volunteers it attracts.

Vinson said the compromise—"a very fine bill"—will "give the Pentagon a chance to show whether it can build a strong reserve."

"And we will keep after them to make sure they do it," he added.

Rep. Brooks (D-La), another key figure in writing the House measure, said the new bill "is about the best possible compromise we could get. But it may need some adjustments later."

Here are the bill's main provisions:

1. The total military duty — active and reserve — for those entering service or the reserves after the bill becomes law is cut from eight to six years. But they are obliged to maintain minimum reserve training of 48 weekly drills and a 17-day encampment, or the equivalent, or face recall to active duty for 45 days.

2. Those now in service or who have finished service are still subject to the total eight years' military obligation. But they are under no obligation to maintain reserve training.

3. Youths under 18½ years can avoid two-year draft duty by volunteering for 3-6 months' special training plus 7½ years in the reserves. They may also volunteer for the reserves under varying conditions that would reduce their total military service.

$21,000 Lost By Armored Vehicle

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 23—UP—A bag containing $21,000 in small bills, en route to the Florida National Bank here, apparently rolled out through an unlocked hatch of an armored car Saturday and was lost.

The armored car division of Guy Marvin, Inc., called in local police and the FBI. The firm said, however, that there was definitely no holdup.

Atheists Seekin Court Action To Halt Motto's Use

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Two atheists went to court today in their fight against a postage stamp which says "In God We Trust."

John L. Manners, 44, and Walter B. Stevens, 25, both of New York City, filed a suit in U. S. District Court against Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and District of Columbia postmaster Roy M. North.

Manners and Stevens are members of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism. But they brought suit on behalf of the National Liberal League whose avowed aim is "complete separation of church and state." They are league members also.

Their suit asks that the court order the Post Office not to bar from the mails or otherwise interfere with letters they want to mail in envelopes which denounce a new series ot "in God We Trust" stamps. The statement on the envelope claims the issuance of such stamps is in contempt of the constitution.

Last September Manners and Stevens spent two days in Washington trying to post such envelopes and, at the same time, get thrown in jail so they could make a test case of it.

Their letters were blocked but officials, eventually including Atty. Gen. Brownell, declined to make an obliging arrest. They went back home to New York, unjailed. Their attorney, James E. Curry of Washington, followed up with today's suit.

The envelopes that Manners and Stevens want to go through the mails are like any other except for a red lettered inscription enclosed in a box. This legend quotes George Washington as saying that "the Unted States government is not in any sense founded upon the Christian religion" and it argues that it is unconstitutional anyway to imply otherwise.

And he was not above erupting into the blue language of the Davey Crockett school.

One famous occasion was the "cussin' out" he gave the Japanese diplomats who were dealing with him in Washington at the very moment their planes were bombing Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. It was unrecorded but by all accounts picturesque.

Man Is Booked On Aggravated Battery

James Williams, 47, Negro, 1524 Olive street, was booked on charges of aggravated battery and using a knife after surrendering to detectives following the slashing of George Davis, 37, Negro, 915 Adams Street.

According to detectives, Davis was slashed during a fight between the two men after Williams refused to give Davis a drink of wine. The fight occurred in the 100 block of North Sixth street.

Davis was taken to Charity hospital and treated for a severe cut on his left shoulder.

Police Sergeant Solves Burglaries In Which Son Died

NEW ORLEANS, July 23 (AP) — A New Orleans police sergeant helped clear a series of burglaries and a robbery in which his son, recently slain, was involved, police said today.

Police said the sergeant, Paul Gares, and Det. Joseph Williams had been working on the case for nearly a month. Gares' 20-year-old son, Rodney, was killed June 25 in a holdup attempt.

Gares said a youth arrested in a narcotics raid named his son as his accomplice in a crime spree in April, May and June.

Gares said the youth, Robert Blakeslee, 18, admitted that the spree included the holdup of Preston De Ben, secretary-treasurer of the Crescent Cigar and Tobacco Co.

De Ben today identified Rodney Gares from a picture as the youth who robbed him of $42,000 in checks and $320 in cash.

Blakeslee was booked with armed robbery, theft and four counts of simple burglary.

Young Gares was shot to death in a gun battle when he and several other youths attempted to rob Merlin Laborde, alias Joe Almerico.

Sgt. Gares said he and his wife had often questioned their son about his mysterious income but only got vague answers, including a reference to gambling.

"And you know how parents are," Gares said. "they look for any excuse to let them think their kid is all right."

But her fiancee of six months described her as "no ordinary superficial beauty queen." He is Lt. Nils Benkert, 26, a pilot in the Swedish air force.

Miss Rombin said they plan to marry soon, perhaps within six months.

"I'll see how my movie career goes," she said.

Previous Miss Universe contestants have not met with any great success in the film capital. Myrna Hansen, Miss U.S.A. two years ago, was the last previous Universe contest beauty under contract. Her option was dropped 10 days ago, just before the contest started.

But a top Universal-International executive said after seeing the statuesque Swede: "This is one girl that I think we can really do something with."

The new queen is a graduate of Uppsala, located just a half-hour's drive north of Stockholm.

In fact, one of the judges said it was her reserved bearing and her intelligence that helped win the title.

Miss Sweden was given keen competition by the four other finalists who finished in this order: Miss El Salvador, Maribel Arrieta, 19; Miss Ceylon, Maureen Hingert, 18; Miss Germany, Margit Nunke, 24; and Miss Japan, Keiko Takahashi, 20.

A pre-final favorite — Miss Vermont, Carlene King Johnson, 22, didn't make the select five. But she had one consolation—a $200-a-week U-I movie contract to go with her Miss U.S.A. title.

Dr. James Wall Dies At Tallulah

TALLULAH, July 23 (Special)—Dr. James Wall, 56, died at his home here at 7 a.m. today after a long illness.

A resident of Tallulah for 17 years, he was a member of the Tallulah Baptist church, a charter member of the Tallulah Lions Club and a member of the Masonic Lodge. He recently received a 25-year Masonic membership award. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Tallulah at 4 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. Irving Cheney officiating. Interment will follow in the Masonic cemetery at Delhi, under the direction of Crothers Funeral home, Tallulah. Masonic services will be held at the graveside.

Dr. Wall is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Wall; a son, Jimmy Wall, of Ames, Iowa; two daughters, Mrs. Carrie Mae Harper, St. Joseph, and Marcia Wall, Tallulah; four grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Alice Simmons of Epps.

Seems rather expensive but desperate New Orleans is giving it consideration.

Miss Betty Lou Bentley, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Bentley of New Orleans has been chosen at Centenary College to be manager of the Conglomerate staff. Her father was pastor some years ago of Gordon Avenue Methodist Church, later he was a Shreveport pastor and at this time is pastor of a New Orleans church. Miss Bentley was a small child when her father lived in Monroe, but she will be recalled by many persons who will be pleased at the honor that has come to her.

Miss Bentley, who will start her junior year at Centenary in the fall, served as circulation manager and assistant business manager of the Conglomerate during her freshman year at Centenary. She also worked on the editorial staff of the Yoncopin, student yearbook.

She is a former member of the Centenary Choir, the Ministerial Club and the Centenary Players Guild. She is active in the Methodist Student Movement and serves on the Dormitory Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell, newlyweds of a few weeks ago, when they made considerable publicity in connection with their marriage, have left the Spanish City home here, and are now living at 212 Peach street.

Jack, in his early forties, who has been crippled since childhood through an injury that left him with one leg far shorter than the other while living at the St. Joseph home here, was wedded to a blind spouse who lived in the Spanish City home.

She was in her late twenties, but ages failed to make any difference.

Their marriage was publicized in the press and they started to make their home in the Spanish city institution.

Now they are located in the home on Peach street and are pleased with the new setup. Mrs Russell is studying Braille for the first time and Jack is busy with handcraft and mechanical work that keeps him busy part of the day. Physical handicaps seem not to bother this couple who look out on life with real zest.

We regret to learn of the auto accident that injured Publisher C. E. Faulk Jr., of the Ruston Leader, and his wife, while on an auto trip to south Louisiana. Both were hospitalized in Leesville and later moved to a Shreveport hospital.

Their recovery was such that yesterday they were both removed to their Ruston home.

Not every chap at 18 years, who is earning $50,000 in the next three years, would be delighted to lay aside ten percent of the money to his Baptist church. Wayne Causey, deeply religious, and skilled baseball player, who graduated some months ago at Neville high school is now with the Baltimore Orioles, and his contract calls for the big sum stated in three years time.

The College Place Baptist church here, where he is a member, has just received a check for $1,150, his tithe. Much praise to this youth for his loyalty. Success has not turned his head. He is still a good Baptist.

Incidentally a year ago he was mowing lawns in the college area, Jes' Ramblin's lawn was among the number. Now we have to get another non-ball playing youth as grass cutter.

Talbott said he was reminded of the call by a memo from John A. Johnson, Air Force general counsel, who had placed the call from Talbott's office last Jan. 4. The memo, which Talbott sent to the subcommittee, said the Air Force secretary participated in part of the conversation.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said both Johnson and Ewing are "prospective witnesses."

Meantime there were denials of a New York Times report that President Eisenhower's principal political advisers met twice yesterday to discuss Talbott's status. The Times said those attending were Vice President Nixon, Atty. Gen. Brownell, presidential assistant Sherman Adams and Wilton B. Persons, deputy assistant to the President.

Grain Facilities To Be Dedicated

BATON ROUGE, July 23—UP—Officials of Cargill Inc., grain handlers, and of the Kansas City Southern - Louisiana & Arkansas railroads will take part in the dedication ceremonies of the new port grain facilities here Monday.

John H. MacMillan Jr., president of Cagill Inc., will speak at the ceremony. W. N. Deramus, president of the Kansas City Southern, has called a directors meeting in conjunction with the dedication.

Miss Baton Rouge of 1955, Mona Henderson will appear on the program and music will be furnished by the L.S.U. band.

In case of rain, the program will be held in the Port Allen community center.

Jonesboro Girl Named Queen At Peach Festival

RUSTON, La., July 23 (Special) —Miss Sharon Horne, a jonesboro brunette, won the title of Miss Dixie Gem 5th. from among 15 contestants as the two-day Louisiana Peach estival concluded here tonight with ceremonies in Howard Auditorium at Louisiana Tech.

Miss Horne, a senior at Jonesboro High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Horne, of Jonesboro. Her candidacy was sponsored by the Cosmos Club of Ruston.

Judging in the contest was close with an assortment of blondes, brunettes and red-heads participating. The runner-up contestant was Miss Lee Stengall of Ruston.

The title of Princess Peach went to Donna Kimbell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Kimbell of Ruston. There were 12 participants in the Prnicess Peach contest.

Miss Horne succeeds Miss Jan Johnston of Ruston as Miss Queen Dixie Gem. Nancy Gail Henderson of Ruston is the immediate past holder of the Princess Peach title.

Today's ceremonies included a parade through Ruston at 2:30 p. m.

Winners in the various classes of the orchards contest were:

One to three-year orchards — Elmer hollis, whose orchard is north of Ruston, first; A. B. Larance, Hilly, second; four to six-year orchards—A. B. Larance, Hilly, first, and L. E. Mitcham, of near Ruston, second; and seven to ten-year orchards—L. E. Mitcham, first; A. B. Larance, second, and C. B. Holloway, Union parish, third.

Among visitors at the contest ceremonies were Sherry Lynn Posey, Bienville, Holiday in Dixie queen; Miss Sally Ware, Shreveport, North Louisiana Delta Festival queen; Miss Elizabeth Carter, Winnfield, Forestry Festival queen; and Miss Grace Delcambre, Abbeville, Yambilee Festival queen.

Dr. Paul Hendershot of the Lousiiana Tech faculty was master of ceremonies for the program tonight.

Nixon Says Talks Cleared Tension In World Affairs

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today that Geneva Big Four discussions have cleared the international atmosphere. He said the free world can look with "much more hope" to future negotiations with the Russians on a lower level.

Nixon, who has been relaying confidential reports from President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles to congressional leaders, told reporters he believes the Geneva meeting has been "worthwhile" from a Western standpoint.

His views were shared in varying degrees by key senators whose estimates of the results ranged from a "victory for our side" comment by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to the observation by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) that "whether you call the meeting a success depends on what you expected out of it."

Sen. Millikin of Colorado broke the silence Senate Republican leaders have maintained about conference developments.

Millikin, who heads the conference of all Republican senators, told reporters he thinks the Geneva meeting was "a big success."

"It has provdied an opportunity for the leaders to get to know each other," he said.

Millikin did not comment on the President's proposal to exchange military information with Russia, an offer which has not received any public support from Sens. Knowland of California, top GOP floor leader, or Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Eisenhower will tell the nation what he himself thinks about the meeting in a 15-minute address Monday night over radio and TV networks. Monday morning he will give a first-hand version of his Geneva talks to more than a score of key Congress members representing both partis.

A gala reception was shaping up for the President's homecoming tomorrow. Members of his cabinet and some congressional leaders of both parties planned to welcome him at National Airport.

Old Age Public Welfare Proves To Be Major Race Issue In Louisiana Again

By JAMES MCLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana, where six out of 10 persons over 65 receive old age public relief, once again is fanning the flames of public welfare.

Sen. Gove Davis of Olla predicts there is a "strong possibility" the $55 monthly maximum payment will be boosted to $65 "in the not too distant future."

The senator sponsored a successful resolution in the 1955 Legislature two months ago directing a raise up to $65, if welfare revenues permit.

Welfare officials told him at adjournment time, Davis said today, a $5 or even $10 increase might be possible in the fall.

Davis originally insisted payments ought to be raised to $75.

There is no indication from the administration of Gov. Robert Kennon whether any action is contemplated. Both Welfare Commissi0ner Edward Dameron and Welfare Chairman James C. Bolton are on vacation.

A campaign for governor is beginning—even though slowed by summer heat. The campaign will be in high gear by fall.

The size of monthly payments to old age recipients already is shouldering its way forward in the campaign.

Former Gov. Earl Long, one of six candidates, pledged at a July 4th rally in ville Platte he will raise the $55 monthly maximum to $65 "as soon as I become governor—the finances of the state justify it."

Another Mansion aspirant, James McLemore, criticized the administrations of both Long and Kennon for allowing sales tax revenues to be used for other purposes, trimming welfare revenues.

He said if the Long and Kennon administrations had left welfare money untouched, they could have granted $15 increases.

Welfare has occupied a ringside seat in every recent gubernatorial campaign. long four ears go even talked at one time of offering $100 bonuses to those on old age rolls.

About 120,000 persons draw old age public assistance. The average individual payment in April was $50.87.

The Public Affair Research Council, which made an exhaustive survey of the giant welfare program in 1954, said 604 cut of 1,000 persons over 65 are on the old age rosters—three times the national rate.

Welfare has become almost political "untouchable" in Louisiana. PAR sponsored several recommendations in its study, undertaken at the request of the Legislature. But when some of these recommendations for tightening the program reached the '54 Legislature, lawmakers threw in a fast roadblock stopping any move to cut welfare.

PAR even suggested the welfare program at least ought to have a long range objective. Lack of one, it reminded, "leaves the welfare program open to charges of revision for political purposes."

With 20,000 persons collecting old age welfare checks, multiplied by families involved, voting strength is apparent.

As an example of what such ballot strength can mean, Kennon, one of nine candidates in the 1952 first primary, won his way into the run' off with 164,434 votes against 173,987 for Carlos Spaht, who as backed by Long. Kennon captured the runoff, 482,302 to 302,743.

The 1955 legislative resolution, which bounced back and forth between Senate and House, finally directed the Welfare Board to raise the $55 individual maximum as high as $65, if possible, and the $90 maximums for a couple to as high as $110.

The resolution, only an expression of legislative will, said the raises should be authorized when the welfare surplus reaches 15 million dollars. The huge reserve is necessary to protect the welfare program against fiscal emergencies.

The state's two-cent sales tax is dedicated to welfare, and federal matching funds support 60 per cent of the overall program...

But federal aid stops at the $55 monthly maximum. Any raises beyond that level will have to ride on state funds.

Under the kennon administration, one-fourth the sales tax was diverted to teachers' pay raises and about eight million a year in addition to support state hospitals.

It was just a way of juggling state finances to fit need, without harming welfare.

When the extra load began cutting into welfare, however, Kennon and the '55 Legislature pulled hospitals out of the sale tax.

The welfare surplus is at about 13 million dollars now and is slowly starting to climb toward the 15 million level, with hospitals out of the way.

And sales tax revenues, usually reflecting current prosperity, are increasing steadily. In June, the tax revenue went up $779,855 compared with June a year ago.

In May, for the first time this year, the Welfare Department climbed back into the black by $53,344. In June, it was in the black $160,377.

The Welfare Department reports there is no plan at this time for any consideration of welfare raises at the regular monthly meeting next Friday.

Worker Crushed In Rail Accident

NEW ORLEANS, July 23 (AP) — A 1,500-pound boom fell on laborer Arthur Johnson, 35, as it was being unloaded from a railroad car today, killing him.

Officers said the brakes of a crane holding the boom at a 45-degree angle from the ground apparently slipped.

Louise Centanni, crane operator for Boh Brothers Construction Co., told police the victim died in about 10 minutes.

He said the 50-foot boom started falling as he began unloading it.

Prison Escapee Captured After 21-Year Period

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 23 (AP) —A 47-year-old man who escaped from the state reformatory for males here 21 years ago and who, officials said, had married, raised a family and apparently led an "exemplary" life, was back behind bars today.

He had been at large longer than any other escapee in the history of the reformatory.

Robert E. Wilkinson, taken into custody in Richmond, Va., where he and his family had been living, was arrested, oddly enough, not for the Maryland escape, but for an escape from a Delaware jail.

Superintendent Clement J Ferling of the state reformatory said Wilkinson escaped Nov. 3, 1934, after serving less than eight months of a two-year term for breaking and entering in Maryland's Wicomico County.

"From all reports, he had been leading an exemplary life and was married and the father of children," Ferling said.

Washington County state's atty. Tom Kaylor said he will not press charges of escape. Ferling said Wilkinson, of course, "is interested in getting out," but the matter will have to be taken up with the State Department of Correcion and the Board of Parole and Probation.

Reformatory officials said after his escape in 1934, Wilkinson went to Delaware and was involved in some trouble in Sessex County.

He escaped from the county jail in Georgetown, Del., shortly after his Maryland escape.

He was finally picked up 21 years later in Richmond at the request of Delaare authorities. Finding he was wanted in Maryland, Delaware authorities sent him back here.

Lake Charles Is 'All American City' Finalist

SEATTLE, July 23 (AP) —Twenty-two cities, ranging alphabetically from Aiken, S. C., to Ypsilanti, Mich., offer final arguments next week in their efforts to win "All American City" honors for 1955.

But, under the contest's terms, the 11 national winners won't be disclosed until next December.

The country-wide competition, in which a record 137 cities, towns and villages submitted records of civic improvement through individuals' efforts this year, reaches its final stages at the 61st National Conference on Government opening Monday at the University of Washington.

Starting Monday forenoon, spokesmen for 11 of the 22 finalist cities will appear and argue their "case" before a jury of leaders in the fields of education, business, civic affairs and government headed by Dr. George H. Gallup, New York. The contest is sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

A screening committee reduced the list of 137 to 22. Last year's national winners ranged from a town of 309 population, Decatur, Ark., to Chicago.

Aiken will present its cases Monday;

On Tuesday Lake Charles, La.; Medford, Mass., and Phenix City, Ala.; will present their cases.

U. OF ILL. ASSETS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. —(UP) —The University of Illinois values its plant and equipment at almost $124,000,000. The annual report by Comptroller Herbert O. An Aboriginal Odyssey

The Osage Indians, in the days of American colonization, occupied ancestral territory along the Osage and Arkansas Rivers in areas now embraced by Arkansas and Missouri. A warlike tribe, closely related in language to the Sioux, they clashed with the advancing white men who worked over the passes of the Alleghenies or dared the snags and sandbars of the Mississippi and its tributary system. They were not large, numerically—perhaps only about 5,000.

Reduced in numbers by warfare, the tribe eventually was herded into a scrub-oak region of the old Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, and given lands to make up for the lands they had lost. The soil was poor, the outlook for anything more than a bare existence was bleak.

Today these Indians of Osage County, Oklahoma, roll in riches. For underneath the stony hillsides lies a wealth of oil, which the federal government holds in trust for the benefit of the tribe.

At an auction held the other day in Pawhuska, the county-seat, the Indians were enriched by $2,399,900 in cash bonuses for mineral leases.

A year ago, a similar auction netted $1,170,000. The sales are held at three-month intervals.

The odyssey of these aborigines might serve as a reminder that good fortune may grow out of seeming calamity, and riches out of seeming poverty; happiness out of suffering; joy out of sorrow; hope out of despair; fruition out of seed that grow very slowly.

In the spiritual world, as in the material, the same truths prevail. Our sufferings and our sad pilgrimages may be the prelude to spiritual joy and peace and riches.

DeSiard Street Bridge To Be Closed

The DeSiard Street traffic bridge across the Ouachita River will be closed to vehicular traffic at seven o'clock Monday morning, marking the start of a $143,384 repair job estimated to require three months' time.

And a parking ban on Louisville avenue during rush hours will be placed in effect simultaneously.

Closing the old bridge will, of necessity, greatly increase the traffic over the new four-lane bridge forming the end of Louisville avenue.

The Monroe City Council debated whether to place a 24-hour ban on Louisville avenue parking, but, in response to pleas from merchants along that busy thoroughfare—Highway 80—it compromised by imposing the peak-hour ban—from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 4 to 6 p.m.

Many persons in Monroe have vigorously urged that all parking on Louisville avenue be prohibited, around the clock. The partial closure to parking—itself a temporary measure—will be far more difficult to enforce than a 24-hour prohibition.

The revamping job on the DeSiard street bridge, and its west-end approaches, should speed the flow of traffic on congested DeSiard street, the main downtown artery of Monroe.

Oil In Ouachita Parish

Ouachita Parish's first commercial oil producer, the Golson No. 1, has been completed twelve miles southwest of Monroe by the Zach Brooks Drilling Company of El Dorado, Arkansas.

The well is flowing high gravity oil, with plenty of bottom-hole pressure. Its completion marks a triumph of ingenuity and perseverance on the part of the operators, who overcame many mechanical difficulties, including a stuck drill-stem.

The same company is drilling a second well a quarter of a mile north of the discovery location.

For many years, Ouahita Parish has ranked high in the state and nation as a gas producer. Although many showings of oil have been encountered, this is the first instance of commercially recoverable crude petroleum.

The discovery may prove to be of great importance to the entire parish. It is certain to stimulate wildcat activity.

Ouachita Parish has many natural resources, and the addition of oil to the list is an event for rejoicing.

A Farm Revival?

Fewer and larger farms has been the trend in agriculture in recent years. The quarter section, family operated, has all but disappeared in many states. Before the age of farm power a farm of 160 acres demanded the labor of every member of the family, and seldom provided more than a living.

Machinery, especially the tractor, has changed the farm picture. Electricity has brought many living comforts. Down on the farm isn't such a bad place to be today.

Many persons today look to the land as insurance against financial depressions and a secure haven for old age. Thousands of farms are being purchased every year by persons now residing in cities, who entertain the hope that some day they will retire to the quiet security of the countryside.

John Bird, associate editor of Better Farming, says the small farm is coming into its own again. When the long hours of toil and drudgery were removed by modern methods, the most serious objection to farm life was overcome.

The small farmer will never get rich unless he strikes uranium, but in a way he is monarch of all he surveys. Man's love for the land is universal. He left it only when the going got tough, the hours too long and the profits too small by comparison with other activities.

Better vision for motorists will reduce the number of accidents, it is claimed. But how can those be made to see who won't look?

Millsaps Petition Ignored

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Mr. Clifford Roberts and the patrons of Millsaps school have been betrayed. At a special meeting of the Ouachita Parish School board, called for the purpose of presenting a petition to retain Mr. Roberts as principal of Millsaps School, the petition as presented was completely ignored.

The motion made, with regards to such retention, was worded to contain a problem which, if passed, would cause even greater repercussions. What good is our constitutional right to petition the government if the officials choose to ignore the question as presented?

This nation was founded on the principle of government of, by and for the people, and the individual rights of its citizens.

We elect a board to represent us in the administration of the school system, support them with our tax money, depend on them to help solve local school problems to the best interests of the people involved.

We have learned a valuable and costly lesson about the operation of the Ouachita Parish School Board.

The board has voted to move Mr. Roberts to a position that he does not wish to accept. This action was taken without Mr. Roberts' knowledge or consent. Mr. Roberts has served 27 years in the Ouachita Parish School system; ten of these years he has been principal of Millsaps school During all this time, he has worked with and for the people of this area for the benefit of the school and the children and is regarded as a vital part of this community.

If a man of Mr. Roberts' long service and enviable record can be forced from a school where he wants to continue to serve and where the people of that community have expressed their desire for him to remain, how secure are the positions of any of the school personnel of Ouachita Parish?

Editor, Morning World:

May I thank you sincerely for your editorial, "Passman's Views on Cotton," published in the July 15 issue of the Morning World.

Your factual and analytical discussion of the subject matter should serve to provoke more sound thinking on the part of the citizenship of our area with respect to this extremely critical situation. And sound thinking is, of course, the motivating force for sound action.

Please feel free to request of me any congressional service which you regard as beneficial for our District, State or Nation. And please know that it is of much value to me to be informed of your views on public affairs, whether they are directed to me personally, by letter or otherwise, or through the columns of your newspaper, the reading of which is a "must" on my daily schedule.

Member of Congress.

Thank You, Sen. Davis

Calhoun, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Since Sen. Davis of Olla asked for expressions from the people, I would first like to thank the senator for his efforts to get help for the old people. I feel that since the people are paying a sales tax for the purpose of taking care of the welfare program and in view of the increased cost of living and all medicines, I feel everyone would agree that the old people are entitled to an increase.

There would be plenty of money to pay the increase if the last two administrations had not used so much of the welfare funds for other purposes.

Again, thank you Senator Davis.

Ike Should Be Re-Elected

Lafayette, La.

Editor, Morning World:

"Why I think Eisenhower should be re-elected for president."

A couple of times in the latter part of '54 and during the first months of '55, we were in great danger and near war; a war which, if it would have taken place, might have destroyed all civilization. Each time our president came up with flying colors and helped keep the world at peace.

When he came into office he had a war on his hands and a country billions of dollars in debt. He helped bring peace in Korea and later in Indo-China and in spite of the debts, helped this country to even greater prosperity.

He never made rash statements or false prophesies to what America would do to the Red nations in case of war but always has been the cool and sensible general of Normandy even through the Korean and Indo-China wars.

For a good and strong America cross the river again with Eisenhower for president in '56.

ERNEST L. CASTEL.

Sicily Island School

Sicily Island, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Are teen-agers really as bad as some people think? According to one of the parents at Sicily Island, our school is "going to the dogs." This parent portrays high school pupils as being rowdy, and blames the principal, superintendent, and school board for our actions. As you know, the school board members are elected by popular vote. They in turn appoint the principal and faculty. I firmly believe that the general public will put competent people in such an important position.

In the article published July 17, a parent stated that the study hall was being torn up, smoking allowed in the halls, and pupils allowed to skip class.

In connection with the study hall, may I ask this question, "What school can boast of not having a few magazines torn up?" We certainly have not torn up any excessive amount of furniture!

As for smoking in the halls, I've never seen it done in all my years in the high school building except at basketball tournaments, and then the older people are the ones to smoke. I think this parent has been to the high school during basketball games instead of class periods.

We come now to the question of skipping class. Don't you know that in any small town school there is a certain amount of skipping? If you don't believe me go ask some of the pupils in other small schools! Perhaps quite a few pupils have skipped class, but after all, the principal is only human, he can't be in four or five classes at once. Every school has faults that can be improved. It is seldom that you find a perfect school. Stop and consider that, will you?

Basketball is a wonderful sport, but sometimes you can have too many games. This has been one of the protests some of the parents had this year. We played two or three games a week and most of the parents began to complain so much that our principal felt under obligation to cancel some of the games. Therefore, because of our parents protests, basketball games were cut down. Both boys and girls were entered in the Tri-Parish League this past year. In fact, the boys played more games this season than they have in the past four years.

If football is stressed at Sicily Island, it is because so many people like it. The boys and girls are all interested in the sport and so are their parents. There is only one football game a week, and it is on Friday night, so the parents do not protest.

I feel loyal to my school and I don't like to see its reputation torn to shreds by a misguided parent. I, personally, would like to invite the parents to consider the good points of our school and come visit some of our classes. I doubt if you will find such a terrible mess as you have been led to believe exists.

I am not afraid to sign my name to this article because I feel like this is the opinion of most of the students at Sicily Island High School.

MARTHA FRANKS,
Senior, Sicily Island High School.

Agrees With 'Parent'

Sicily Island, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I would like the parent who wrote Public Forum regarding the Sicily Island school situation last Sunday to know that I am in full agreement with every statement that he made.

It is true that a delegation of parents with a lawyer met with the school board and every request that was made was flagrantly disregarded.

It is also true that our superintendent stated before a separate delegation of parents prior to the school board meeting that as far as he could find the issue between Mr. Wiggins and Mr. Turner was more personal than professional. To what advantage is the tenure law if it gives the man with tenure the privilege of using personal charges against a man who has not yet achieved his tenure, thereby causing his dismissal? Are our superintendent and school board acting in good faith and true to the school patrons when they retain one man and dismiss the other? Why would our superintendent and the school board members refuse an open investigation of the situation. What do they fear that an investigation might disclose.

Can our principal deny that he refuses to accept his duty in controversial issues concerning school affairs, excusing himself on the ground that he might offend some political friend of his superior?

Isn't it true that football takes precedence over the three R's as well as all other forms of competitive sport? We want a well balanced curriculum which will include football but will not stress it beyond its importance. Isn't it true that examinations have been repeated and special coaching offered our football players which have not been extended to other members of the same classes? We are proud of our football record and we are proud of our coach. We would like a principal of whom we can be as proud.

I, too, would like to know when our school has had a thorough safety inspection. Are our children taught self-protection in case of fire? Keeping in mind that our grammar school building is three stories.

Again, can our principal deny that he has counseled a certain new teacher against association with certain other long-standing members of the faculty who have not fallen in line with his lax administrative policies?

The patrons of this school are not happy with the present administration and, still living in a democracy, we intend to fight for what is best for our children regardless of who has tenure and who has not.

A SCHOOL PATRON.

P. S. Thank you for your interest in publishing the first letter that was sent to Public Forum, it would seem that here is our last stand. Through your paper we fight or we fall. Again thanks.

Takes Issue With Kohlberg

Mer Rouge, La.

Editor, Morning World:

There are more good quarterbacks in the grandstand than ever there are on the playing field. More superior baseball players occupy the bleacher seats than can be found in both the major leagues. No doubt but Mr. John Z. Cheops had his sideline critics at the time he was erecting his lasting pyramid.

There are many All America presidents scattered along every creek ridge, knob, street and dusty road in the U. S. All know (afterward) how every little act of the president should have been done. Not the least among these self-appointed executives is Mr. Alfred Kohlberg. Unfortunately for the country, from his view, his name never entered the ballot box.

Mr. Kohlberg storms and thunders about "I (and 150,000,000 fellow Americans) become partners with another crook," meaning Joe Stalin. In all probability Mr. Kohlberg is a partner of old Joe but that is no justification to include the others. He then continues by having Joe Stalin at Pearl Harbor and climaxed his diatribe with a not very intelligible castigation of the Declaration of Washington, Yalta, Potsdam and Moscow. He was aiming his poisoned darts at F. D. Roosevelt.

Mr. Kohlberg may be possessed of honest opinions but I am thinking someone tainted those opinions. On the other hand, they may be original.

No treaty with a foreign country has any more standing in the organization of the United States than a gift of the moon would be, unless it is ratified by two-thirds of the senate. See Article II, Section II, paragraph 2 of the Text of the Constitution of the U. S.

Those satellite countries fell to the Communists the same way California fell to the U. S. — by conquest.

Did Greece fall for that fly bait? Not that any one can notice on a dark moonshiny night.

The Mule In The Tree

New York, N. Y.

Editor, Morning World:

Last night I dreamt that a big white mule was dancing around on the topmost branches of a tree outside my bedroom window. I shouted at him to watch his step, but he only gave me a hee-haw. Then he began to slip and came crashing down through the branches, desperately hanging on with his forelegs. Before I could learn whether he landed safely or not, I woke up.

My wife, who comes from Vienna, explained the subconscious for me. The mule, she said, is a symbol of stubbornness. The tree symbolizes the Summit. The stubborn mule, having been the fall guy at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, is now prancing around at the Geneva Summit.

Mrs. K. says it is unfortunate that I woke before I saw which end the mule landed on. If on the head, she said, it would be an omen of good fortune, for the mule also typified the State Department, where the most solid bone structure is found in the cranium.

Independent Cancer Crusade

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The Executive Committee of the Ouachita Parish Unit of the American Cancer Society wishes to express its appreciation for the thoughtful editorial on united funds which appeared in the July 19th News-Star.

We believe that the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce is wise in extending the study of united giving in order that all aspects of the problem may be considered.

Our newspapers through such editorials as the one of the 19th perform a real community service in helping the public to see both sides of a problem. While we believe that a united effort in supporting local charities may have proven successful and may eventually be the solution to our own local needs, the evidence shows that federation has not proved to be to the best interests of the nation-wide attack on the cancer control problem.

Federation has an immediate, powerful appeal. It seems a convenient way of eliminating confusion and competition in good works. Co-operation is a magic word. But friends of cancer control feel that most leaders have not carefully analyzed the meaning of federation in relation to the attack on cancer. Rapid growth of program so necessary to cancer control is impossible in federation. In 68 units of The American Cancer Society with five year's experience in federation the society's increase in contributions was only 18 per cent, whereas the over-all national growth for the same period was 58 per cent.

The Monroe Morning World of July 18th carried the story of the success of Shreveport United Fund and we would like to parallel that story with the success story of the Shreveport Cancer Crusade for the same year. Some of the top leaders in organizing the United Fund there were also the leaders in the Cancer Crusade and voted to hold independent drive in April. The assigned quota for the unit was $27,500.00 and the public voluntarily poured $40,000.00 into the fight against cancer. After the April Crusade the ACS Board of Directors went on record as heartily endorsing the society's new policy which its National Board of Directors voted after a year's intensive study — that there could be no new participation in federation or united appeals.

We wish to point out that this new policy does not relate to joint fund-raising in industry. The society may participate in in-plant campaigns with other agencies where this can be arranged. This is being done at present in many ACS Units where the society conducts an independent drive.

Each of us has a stake in the fight against cancer which took the lives of 3,697 persons in Louisiana in 1954 and 116 from our own parish and caused untold expense and suffering to the approximately 11,000 persons in the state struck by this dread disease in a single year. Cancer plays no favorites—it strikes in all age groups—no one is immune. It is the leading fatal disease among children between three and fifteen years; and, among adults, the risk of cancer rises with each passing year. Modern surgery and radiation now cure about 25 per cent of patients and could cure another 25 per cent.

Through ever-increasing support by the American public, the American Cancer Society is stepping-up its attack on cancer through education, research and service. This increasing support is best expressed by the public through independent cancer crusades in each community combining life-saving education and fund-raising. Here are some 1955 figures from four Massachusetts communities:

In Lynn the ACS was offered $4,000.00 to participate in Federation, which they refused, and raised $33,000.00 through their own efforts. In Lawrence pressures were exerted to get the ACS into Federation, and without a line of favorable publicity, the local unit raised $25,000.00 independently. New Bedford Federation offered $4,000.00 and ACS raised $20,000.00; in Brockton the federation allocation was $3,800.00 and ACS made more than $15,000.00.

These figures, like those of the Shreveport experience, speak for themselves eloquently. Their message is that federation, good though it may be for some agencies, is not to the best interests of the American Cancer Society.

Machine And The H-Bomb

Dunn, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In my opinion the world today is faced with two great dangers—the machine and the H-Bomb.

You no doubt have heard it said that the machine is a great blessing. Perhaps it is so in some cases; in others I have found it not so.

We will take the farm tractors, combines and cotton pickers first. A four row tractor will take the place of four small mule farmers. Where is he going? He knows no trade or skill except farming—can he find a job in the city? No, he has lost his purchasing power, his job and perhaps his family so he heads for the soup line. What about his children—who is going to feed, clothe and school them?

I know of hundreds of small families turned off big plantations with no place to go. Where's your blessing? The old time combines in the wheat fields took at least four men to operate. Now the new type self-propelled machine takes only one man to operate. There's three men out of work. Where's your blessing?

Now the cotton picker — one machine will pick 8 or 10 bales of cotton per day. It would take about 60 men a day to pick 8 bales of cotton—sixty men out of work with no purchasing power. Where's your blessing? Can they secure employment elsewhere? It is very doubtful.

How about the cotton chopping machines and the grass and weed killing oils that are being used? The old time hoe hand is out of a job and his purchasing power is gone. I still fail to see the blessings, how about you?

Unless some sane solution is found to these problems, how far can you go? I have found the same problems on highways, building, construction work, etc. A few years ago it took a gang of men to clear right-o-ways for new roads. Now a bulldozer operated by one man does the whole job, easy too, but lots of men with no work.

I could go on and on telling you where machines are taking the place of men but I can't tell you where these men are going to earn their bread and beans. Can you? Unless some sane solution is found for this problem how far can you push the machine? Will the machine become a destroyer of families; homelife? Will the small forty-acre farmer have to go? I don't say the machines could not be made a blessing to mankind. I say I have failed to see the blessing until a solution is found for all concerned and there is a solution to this problem as there is a solution to all problems.

Now about the H-Bomb—we have the H-Bomb, so does another great nation. Year by year they keep spreading out, reaching out for more territory, more people and more power.

We build bombers that can circle the globe; so do they. We build bigger H-Bombs; so do they. We believe one thing; they believe another. We argue at the U. N., we have meetings in Europe, we talk about this and that but no solution is found; no agreement is made.

Experts agree that war with H-Bombs would destroy all life on this planet. Unless some solution is found for lasting peace, all mankind is in danger; that we know. But can a solution be worked out that will insure lasting peace on this earth? I believe it could if all concerned are sincere and willing to do that which is right, realizing that another world war will bring an end to all life on this planet.

That men everywhere must do that which is right. Be sincere when they speak and be fair in their dealings. I believe there is a solution. Are there those who would like to express their belief along these lines? I would like to hear from you by letter or in Public Forum.

Realizing the danger, may men everywhere think right, live right and do right, not forgetting their duty toward their country, their fellowman and God.

I would like to read some of your ideas and beliefs along these lines in Public Forum.

O. W. HOPKINS.

Wants No Special Favors

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Writing this in regards to our so called democracy in West Monroe — I am not trying to stress the point that I did not deserve a penalty for getting too much to drink, but while serving my sentence of 50 days working on the streets, my mother became ill. I asked permission to go see her. She doesn't live far away. I was refused permission to go. After I got through work Friday, I went to see her. She is a widow and lives by herself when I am not there. She is 73 years of age. I came back to the City Hall about 12:00 o'clock noon Saturday and reported back. I did not leave with the intention of trying to escape but I was brought back to court and given a $15.00 fine for escaping. However, I know of several prisoners who have walked off a work detail and left town and after a time sent the fine, which they were serving, to police headquarters and they have never been tried for escape.

I have never wanted any special favors but I think we need a city government who shows no partiality and I believe if the good people knew the true facts about our city, except what they hear from our higher up officials, that they would get ready to do something about it.

I am not writing this only for myself but for any of you who may stump your toe in the wrong place.

For A United Hemisphere

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Last week the top level talks at the Geneva summit conference began. Some people seem to be optimistic and hopeful that much good will be the result of this conference, but I am rather pessimistic. I am suspicious that this conference is only a prelude to another world war. The objective is peace but the Soviets will not accept anything but their own terms. The Soviets have been so gainfully successful for the past ten years, they will never yield to a relaxation of their drive for world conquest. They will talk peace to Mr. Eisenhower from one corner of their mouths while they secretly build up strength. Their intentions are to lull the western powers into a sense of false security, and induce them to relax their build up of strength, and give them a chance to build up an overwhelming force.

The Soviets also have another card in the deck which they will draw at the conference. This one will be to gain control of the United Nations. If they can succeed in getting Red China and North Korea admitted to membership in the United Nations, this will give the Commies a ruling majority in both the Security Council and the general assembly. Then our hopes for security through the U. N. will be obsolete, and I think, the best plan for the United States, is to follow Mr. Hoover's plan to withdraw from the U. N. and organize a United Western Hemisphere.

Differential Birthrates

Sacramento, Calif.

Editor, Morning World:

Birth of a 25th child to a French Canadian mother recently was recorded. Later, news that Congress plans an investigation of Canada's Baby Bonus Legislation merits.

Do Americans consider how such added tax burdens also can quickly modify our population? Note how rapidly a single couple can multiply at the 25-child rate. Providing all live and reproduce, they would have 625 grandchildren, 15,625 greatgrandchildren.

In 1900, Canada was predominantly Anglo-Saxon. Today the balance has passed to the French-speaking. Cause: — Working of Differential Birthrates Law.

Can this not also be a powerful weapon to multiply the American Know How type of intellects? Can it likewise not be a mere cannon-fodder scheme as with the Soviets Heroic Mothers system?

Drilling Activity Drops Slightly During Week; 30 Rigs Active In Area

By NORRIS E. VANCLEAVE
Morning World Oil Editor

Drilling rigs active in the Monroe District of the State of Louisiana Department of Conservation dropped from 36 to 30 during the past week as seven wells were completed as producers and four holes were plugged and abandoned.

Seven new locations were filed with the district office during the week, one drilling permit expired nad two drilling permits were denied.

By far the biggest development of the week was the gauging Thursday and Friday of the Zach Brooks Drilling Co. Golson No. 1 wildcat, Sec. 19-17-2E, Ouachita parish's first commercial oiler. The well gauged 166 barrels of 47-gravity oil and 360 MCF of gas daily on a 7-64-inch choke with tubing pressure of 4700 pounds per square inch and shut-in pressure estimated at 4900 pounds. Further exploration in the area is expected to await the outcome of the same operator's Golson A-1, a quarter of a mile north, which is drilling below 7600 feet toward a contract depth of 10,500 feet. Maximum daily oil allowable for the No. 1 is 126 barrels, the limit for wes producing from between 9,000 and 10,000 feet.

Driling reports from various parishes of the Monroe district follow:

Negro Caught After Attempted Armed Robbery

BATON ROUGE, July 23 (AP)—A would-be robber decided to stay all night at a motel last night, but wound up getting caught with his pants down.

W. D. Anderson, night clerk at the Motor Inn Hotel, said a Negro, later identified as Joe Mason, tried to hold him up with a knife. When Mason couldn't force open the cash register, Anderson said, he told the night clerk, "I think I'll spend the night here."

Anderson told the man he would wake him up in the morning, then fled as Mason took off his pants. Mason also fled, leaving shoes, socks and pants on the floor of the lobby. Police picked him up a few hours later with the aid of bloodhounds. Mason is charged with attempted armed robbery.

Angelo Frank Scalia, above, has been named Staff Supervisor of the American National Insurance Co., an old-line legal reserve company according to an announcement by E. M. House, district manager. House said that Scalia's promotion is in line with the rapid promotion and expansion program of the company for successful agents. Scalia joined the company in November, 1954. In his new job he succeeds R. F. Tucker who has been promoted to Regional Supervisor with offices in Memphis. Tucker had been with the local office for 15 months and is now supervisor over four states.

House, who offices are at 320 Bernhardt Bldg., said chances for rapid advancement for all employees in the local offices are good because of Monroe's advancing economic conditions. He suggested men desiring top positions in the insurance field should contact Scalia for complete information.—Adv.

Stock Market Pushes Strongly Toward New High

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—The stock market pushed up strongly this week toward new record highs.

It was able to score its 10th straight weekly advance in the face of a sizable array of uncertainties on the political scene and despite technical difficulties that always surround exceptionally strong markets trying to extend the rise.

In the first place, the four-power conference in Geneva brought out a major amount of caution in Wall Street on the part of both traders and investors.

Well in advance of the international conference, the stock market slowed down and became ragged in anticipation of troublesome times.

Talks of armament control made deep inroads on stocks of all types of firms engaged in defense works.

But the depression didn't last very long.

The market also faced trouble because it exhibited a tremendous amount of caution as it registered a new record high two weeks ago and then subsided. Many brokers looked for a reaction that would break the stride of the long advance. Incidentally, the theory that a reaction is due hasn't been ruled out in brokerage circles.

This week The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained $2.00 and closed at $76.30, only 10 cents under the record high established July 6.

Geneva wasn't the sole influence on the market by any means. All week there was a parade of excellent earnings reports, sustained or higher dividends, and proposals for stock splits.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers gave meaningful background to the market's strength. The council reported total production of goods and services in the nation during the second quarter hit a rate of 383 billion dollars, highest in history.

The bond market provided a positive answer this week to speculation as to whether the price trend on government liens would be up or down after the oversubscription of the 750 million dollar issue 10 days ago of new long term Treasury obligations.

RECEIVES CAR GIVEN BY MERCHANTS—Marvin Ferguson, Route 3, Ruston, receives keys to a new 1955 Chevrolet four-door sedan from Saul Adler, member of the board of directors of the Twin Cities Sports. Next Week Brings Crucial Test On Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Next week brings a crucial test for the controversial Harris Bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal price control.

Approved by a 16-15 vote in the House Commerce Committee Tuesday for a decision on whether it will be put before the House. If the committee does not clear the bill for House consideration, it will be dead for this session.

Some proponents of the bill, named for its author, Rep. Harris (D-Ark), predict the Rules Committee will send it to the House for a vote.

And if the bill goes before the House, it seems destined for a touch-and-go situation.

A recent poll of Democratic members of the House is reported to have shown that a few more Democrats may be opposed to the bill than are for it but that many didn't commit themselves. A similar poll of Republicans reportedly showed a few more for the bill than against it but again some were noncommittal

Supporters likely would try to prevent the measure from going before the House for a decision if they felt it would be defeated.

Rep. Belcher (R-Okla) said he had made "as close a check as possible and in my opinion the bill stands a good chance of passing, although the vote may be close."

"If it should fail," he added in an interview, "I do not believe it would be by more than 10 votes. I feel sure the President will sign the bill if Congress passes it.'

Belcher said he thought sentiment has been building up recently for the legislation because some "realize the opposition is mostly political.

Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said this week in a letter to association members that the close vote by which the House Commerce Committee approved the bill "indicates the task that is confronted in order to obtain congressional passage of this bill during the current session."

Barnett To Fight Desegregation If Elected In Miss.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ross Barnett campaigned for governor Saturday on the promise that Mississippi schools would remain segregated.

He said lawsuits would be filed before long "because the NAACP and their Communistic sympathizers are determined to enforce the edict of the U. S. Supreme Court" outlawing segregation.

"I want you to know that we are just as determined that they fail in their despicable efforts to mix the races in the schools."

The Jackson attorney said he is running for office because "I have only one desire and that is to serve the people of Mississippi from the governor's office.

"My hands will be free and unfettered and my only obligation will be directly to the people of Mississippi. I will owe no le giance to any pressure groups and the decisions I make will be my own."

J. P. Coleman said he offered the people his '20 years experience of successful public service" as his qualifications for governor.

"The people and the state need that service now — not four years from now," he added.

Future Must Determine Whether Geneva Meeting Is Success Or Failure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA, July 23 (AP)—They were saying all over Geneva tonight—in the press hall, hotel lobbies and bars where diplomats and newsmen gathered to total up the score—that the summit meeting was a victory for the West and a great personal triumph for president Eisenhower.

The judgment is backed by many points of the final agreement which the Big Four announced. But it overlooks Russia's major gain here. And it omits the fact the size of the victory remains to be proved in future conferences.

Eisenhower himself stressed that sobering thought in his final statement to the gathering in the Palace of Nations, where other statesmen two decades ago grappled with issues of war and peace in the League of Nations only to find that the finest words rang hollow when they were empty of deeds.

"Only history will tell the true worth and real values of our session together," the President said solemnly. "The follow - through from this beginning by our respective governments will be decisive in the measure of this conference."

The most specific victory that the West won was an agreement by Russia to negotiate at the same time on the problems of German unity and European security. Premier Bulganin had wanted to give priority to his proposal for a new European security system, replacing the Western Alliance. The West had insisted that work on Germany come first.

Technically the decision to link the two was a compromise, but actually it satisfied the real aim of the United States, Britain and France in pinning Russia down to a promise to negotiate on Germany before new security safeguards are established.

The negotiations are to open next October in Geneva among the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France. In the end they may or may not produce German unity. But how the problems turn out, possibly years from now, will be one of the measures of the success of the Geneva conference.

The Western Powers also prevailed on Russia to drop a demand that East and West Germany be invited to the October meeting. Moscow has been trying for years to win Western recognition of the Red regime in East Germany. In that, Soviet Premier Bulganin and Foreign minister molotov failed again.

But the Soviet delegation to Geneva will not go home emtpy-handed the best formed Western diplomats agree one of the Russian purposes in coming here was to promote a freeze of the present division of Europe and the development of a prolonged period of "peaceful coexistence."

In other words the russians want a truce in the cold war and tonight it appeared that they had just about secured it. In a sense they are playing a waiting game on the German issue.

They made it quite clear in Geneva that they do not want to rush into unification. Unification now would mean they would lose all of Germany to the West. They may hope the issue can be stalled until some future time when West Germany's ties with the Western world might be less strong than they are now.

This Soviet policy poses a long-range problem for the united States and its Atlantic allies, including west Germany. Unless they maintain heir unity and strength in dealing with Russia, the future opportunities for which Bulganin and his associates undoubtedly hope may indeed open up.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have warned of this danger in the past. It would be surprising if the President did not mention it again in his report to the American people Monday night.

To say that Bulganin sought a truce in the cold war is not to suggest that the Western leaders opposed it. On the contrary they made quite clear in conference statements that a lowering of tensions in the East-West conflict, and a normalizing of relations between the two great power blocs was a major concern.

But their purpose is different. What they want is to kill the momentum, or whatever remains of it, of Russia's postwar drive toward world communism. They want eventually to roll back Russian power from East Germany and other forward positions in Europe.

Among Western diplomats, and particularly Americans, the belief is strong that Bulganin's government has some pressing economic problems to solve inside Russia. Bulganin, it is believed, wants to reduce Russia's arms burden and will be willing to pay a price for it. The Western price, in future negotiations will be a rollback of Soviet power and, to the extent that it can be obtained, an end to Communist subversion abroad.

Showers Bring Heat Relief In Most Of Nation

By UNITED PRESS

Showers brought relief from the heat Saturday from the Mississippi to the Appalachians.

But the New York area still sweltered in record-breaking heat.

A violent wind and rain storm hit South Bend, Ind., and thousands of homes were darkend by power failures lasting from one to six hours.

The wind, reaching 70 miles per hour, toppled utility lines and lightening bolts hit transformers. Two hospitals were forced to use standby power sources.

Lightning imperiled Peter Rores, 29, who lives in an iron lung. A bolt hit a transformer at the rear of his home, but relatives used a hand pump to keep the lung working until firemen hooked up an emergency generator.

At Joliet, Ill., a 10-year-old boy was killed instantly when lightning struck him as he and his twin brother delivered newspapers.

At New York, the temperature reached 96 to make this the hottest July 23 on record and the 10th day this month that the mercury had risen above 90. This tied a record for 90 degree days in a single month.

Cooler weather prevailed in the Rockies, the Northern Plains and the upper Great Lakes, with early afternoon temperatures mostly in the 70s. The Pacific Coast enjoyed cool weather in the 60s.

Monkey Business In Chicken House Causes Uproar

TYLER, July 23 (AP)—There was monkey business going on in her chicken house and so far the first time in her life she aimed and fired a gun, Mrs. Emma Bounds told Judge Frank McClendon yesterday.

That's why Junior, a 30-pound rhesus monky belonging to George McCrary, now has a face full of bird shot. And owner McCrary said it serves Junior right.

McCrary was in city court to answer a charge of permitting a vicious animal to run loose and Mrs. Bounds appeared as a witness.

"I was so excited over the fuss in the chicken house," Mrs. Bounds told the judge. "Hardly before I knew what I was doing I looked down the barrel of the gun and fired."

"Junior sure likes to kill chickens," McCreary testified. "And I don't blame Mrs. Bounds for shooting. I think Junior will be all right when we pick the bird shot out of his face."

"Case dismissed," said Judge McClendon.

Bossier Laundry Sale Is Planned; Strike Is Fatal

BOSSIER CITY, La., July 23—UP—City Marshal O. L. Watkins said today that the equipment of the defunct Barrell Cleaners and Laundry which went broke during a prolonged strike goes on sale tomorrow.

The laundry owner, George D. Lee, fell behind on rent fees during a seven-month strike called by Local 44 of the Laundry Workers International from Aug 2, 1954, through March of 1955.

The equipment will be sold to meet unpaid debts.

The Barrell laundry and an alleged union - inspired laundry engaged in a price war during final stages of the strike.

W. R. THOMPSON

Pastures Expert To Be Heard At Mangham Meeting

MANGHAM, July 23 (Special)—One of the south's leading specialists in the field of pasture improvement will be featured speaker Friday, July 29, at the joint annual stockholders meeting of the National Farm Loan Associations of Richland and Franklin parishes, and the Richland Parish Co-op Association.

He is W. R. Thompson, agronomist at Mississippi State College, and author of a book and many articles on pasture work. He will speak at the session which will get under way at 9:30 a.m. in the Mangham School auditorium.

Thompson is credited with having 1950 proclaimed as pasture year by the governor of Mississippi. He also assisted in setting up a national grassland program, and the same year was named man of the year in service to Mississippi agriculture by a leading southern farm magazine. He is co-author of the recently published work, "The Livestock Book."

The meeting will be open to any persons wishing to hear Thompson's address, the sponsors said.

Franklin Tenant Held On Parole, Burglary Counts

WINNSBORO, La., July 23 (Special) — Lawrence Hookfin, 29-year-old Negro tenant farmer of Route 1, Winnsboro, is being held in the Franklin parish jail on charges of burglary and violating parole.

Law enforcement officers said Hookfin admitted he entered the E. H. Armstrong General Merchandise Store on Saturday night, July 16, and was frightened away when a car stopped nearby. They said Hookfin confessed after deputy sheriff Elmer Wiggins of Franklin parish used a bloodhound to trail him to his home.

In 1951 Hookfin was sent to the state penitentiary at Angola from Franklin parish on conviction for theft and violating parole. His 15-year sentence was commuted to five years by Gov. Robert F. Kennon and he was released on parole in 1954.

16 Students Get Executive Council Positions At LSU

BATON ROUGE, July 23—UP—Sixteen students have been named as members of the Honor council at L.S.U., it was announced today.

Student council president Frank Foil of Baton Rouge made the appointments. The Honor council works to maintain high standards of honor and conduct among students.

The new members are Huntington Odom, Thomas Rex Beard, Peggy Fuerst and Joan Boyd, all of Baton Rouge; Thomas D. Hardeman of Lake Charles; Jared Evans of Ringgold; Martin Dean Martin of Farmerville; Jack Gilbert of Bossier City; Ed Thornhill of Agie; William Buford of Hodge; Phil Hablutzel of Shreveport; Irvin Couvillion of Simmesport; Karla Neuhauser of Slidell; Jo Lynn Rhoades of New Orleans; Oran Ritter of Homer, and Billie Yawn of DeRidder.

Two Break-Ins Investigated In Franklin Parish

WINNSBORO, July 23 (Special) — Law enforcement officers are investigating two break-ins that occurred inn Franklin parish Friday night.

The Charles McPhail Grocery and Service Station at Baskin was entered and an undetermined amount of small change and some cigarettes were taken, according to deputy sheriff Elmer Wiggins of Franklin parish.

McPhail reported that entrance to the establishment was gained by knocking out a side window, apparently with a 2-by-4-inch plank found at the scene.

C. W. Campbell, post office inspector of Monroe, is investigating the breaking and entering of the Crowville Post Office Friday night. Assisting him in the investigation is deputy sheriff Travis Bass of Franklin parish A safe in the building was not molested and apparently nothing was taken. Entrance was obviously gained by removing the stops from the upper sash of a back window.

Bloodhounds from Richland parish are being used in both investigations.

Ferriday Driver Injured In Crash North Of Wisner

WINNSBORO, July 23 (Special) — A. J. Chapman, 29, Ferriday, was injured at about 1:30 p.m. today in an automobile collision about 15 miles north of Wisner on highway 15.

He was confined to the Rosalie clinic in Wisner for treatment of injuries described as a bruised chest, lacerations of the head and shock.

State Trooper W. W. Miller charged Chapman with driving while intoxicated, in connection with the collision. He said that Chapman was driving north at a high rate of speed and hit a car that was stopped on the Sims Lake Road, waiting to enter Highway 15, when he ran off the road to avoid hitting a car in front of him.

The driver of the car that had stopped at the intersection was identified as H. C Smith, route 1, Wisner. Damage to Chapman's car was estimated at $750 and damage to Smith's at $250.

KOHLER SETTLEMENT SEEN

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., July 23—UP—Cautious hope spread Saturday among union forces for an end to the 15½ month strike by CIO United Auto Workers at the Kohler Co., longest major labor dispute in the nation.

"The union is in the strongest position it has been without a doubt," said an international representative who did not wish to be identified.

Khrushchev In Minor Role At Summit Confab

GENEVA, July 23—UP—Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev hasn't opened his mouth in the Big Four conference meetings.

This fact, emerging Saturday from behind the closed door of the summit meeting, added to speculation among Westerners as to who is the true power in Moscow.

Is the real boss of Russia the tubby, rumpled Khrushchev? Or is it the well-manicured Premier Nikolai Bulganin, the Red army marshal who couldn't keep in step when he inspected a Swiss honor guard?

During the Soviet pilgrimage to Yugoslavia this spring. It was Khrushchev who pushed to the fore. Bulganin quietly stood on the sidelines.

But Geneva has been Bulganin's show, according to Westerners who kept their eyes on such things inside the outside the Palais des Nations here.

They reported that during the critical Big Four debates, the Communist party secretary has not spoken. More than that, whispered consultations have mostly been between Bulganin and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

During the twice-daily procession back and forth from the conference room to the Soviet delegation offices, Khrushchev kept a respectful two paces behind the premier. When they rode together, he often sat in the front seat, next to the chauffeur.

Khrushchev's time to talk has been in the numerous social occasions. There his garrulous nature has blossomed. He has bustled around making sure all statesmen were introduced and generally trying to be the life of the party.

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay recounted that at a dinner the French gave the Russians the first night, Khrushchev virtually monopolized the conversation. At other gatherings he talked plenty, too, but in a more restrained way, and some wondered if he might have been tipped to tune down a bit.

Franklin Farm Group To Attend Convention

WINNSBORO, July 23 (Special) A large delegation of Franklin parish's 700-member Farm Bureau group will attend the state Farm Bureau convention at Alexandria this Sunday through Wednesday.

Voting delegates from Franklin parish are Lantry Womack, president of the Franklin group, J B. Eley and John C. Winters.

Miss Ann McCaleb, 17-year-old Franklin Parish Farm Bureau Queen, will compete with other contestants for the Miss Louisiana Farm Bureau Queen title. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCaleb of Winnsboro.

Contract For Winnsboro Garment Factory Signed

WINNSBORO, July 23 (Special) — A contract for location of a garment factory here was signed today in Chicago, according to a telephone call received from F. C. Howard, president of the Winnsboro Businessman's Association, which has been working for many months to get a factory located in Winnsboro. Joe Dante, member of the local association, has revealed.

Howard said Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn of Winnsboro, acting for the town, signed a contract with a mid - western manufacturer of men's and boys' clothing for a ten - year lease and an option renewable at five - year intervals for 15 additional years.

A pilot plant to be used for training from 50 to 75 persons at a time will be located in the McLemore building near Landis Memorial park and may be used by the manufacturer from six to 18 months.

The Businessman's Association has an option on the purchase of a five - acre plot near the park, where plans call for construction of a $150,000 plant scheduled to employ 250 women workers.

Making the trip to the Chicago conference were Howard, Mulhearn Dr. H. T. Rogers, chairman of the Businessmen's Association industrial committee, Harry N. Anders, Winnsboro town attorney, and Joseph Horan, of the Department of Commerce and Industry, Baton Rouge.

The group left Chicago this afternoon and is scheduled to arrive in Winnsboro Sunday morning.

Vermillion Parish Residents Seek Navy Base Probe

ABBEVILLE, La., July 23—UP—The board of seven Vermilion parish citizens who recently requested a congressional investigation on the "speedy" selection of Iberia parish as the site for the proposed $30,000,000 Navy jet training base, said today it had heard nothing from Washington.

Ernest Stauffer, Abbeville businessman and a member of the board, said the board had had no report from its request for the investigation.

The board charged that "political expediency was greater than economic justification" in the "rapid selection" of New Iberia before an engineering study of an offered Vermilion parish site could be completed to congressional committees.

The Navy selected a site near New Iberia for the new base.

LSU Horticulture Head In Holland

BATON ROUGE, July 23—UP—Dr. Julian C. Miller, head of horticultural research at L.S.U., will address the 14th International Horticultural Congress meeting at Scheveningen, Holland, next month.

HE will discuss techniques of breeding vegetable crops. Dr. Miller was the first horticulturist to breed sweet potatoes, cabbage and Irish potatoes in the South.

Former Airman Held In Caddo For Store Holdup

SHREVEPORT, La. July 23—UP—Caddo authorities today held a former Barksdale Air Force Base airman in connection with a $4.300 supermarket holdup in Detroit, Mich.

Detectives arrested the suspect, McKinley Hinton Jr., 27, Friday on a tip he had been spending large sums of money at local nightspots.

Officers said they found some $600 hidden in a couch in Hinton's home, a loaded .32 caliber pistol and a rifle.

Hinton was wanted for questioning in the holdup last week in which one man entered a supermarket and took the money at gunpoint.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Youthful baseball interests are focused on Monroe and Winnsboro this week as the area one Little League state playoffs begin here, and Winnsboro hosts the state championship Babe Ruth League tournament.

Six Little League All-Star teams, two each from Monroe and West Monroe and one each from Tallulah and Winnsboro, will appear at Lions Field, home of Little League ball in Monroe, to shoot for the northeast Louisiana championship for eight-to-twelve-year-olds. The tournament opens tomorrow and runs through the finals Wednesday.

Ten teams from throughout the state will participate in the Louisiana championship Babe Ruth tournament for 13-to-15-year-olds at Winnsboro tomorrow through Wednesday. Contenders will represent Monroe, Tallulah, Winnsboro, Thibodeaux, Abbeville, Opelousas, Sulphur, New Orleans Recreation Department, Metaire and Houma.

Monday's Little League games send Monroe Northside against West Monroe Southside, and West Monroe Northside against Monroe Southside. Tallulah and Winnsboro move in Tuesday to play Monday's winners. The finals will follow Wednesday.

Thibodeaux vs. Abbeville and Opelousas vs. Sulphur start the Babe Ruth action at Winnsboro tomorrow. Four games are on tap Tuesday with New Orleans Recreation meeting the Thibodeaux-Abbeville winner, Houma vs. Winnsboro, Metarie vs. Tallulah, and Monroe vs. the Opelousas-Sulphur winner. Semi-finals and finals are dated Wednesday.

The winner at Winnsboro will represent Louisiana in the national regional Babe Ruth tournament to be conducted here August 2-3, and the victor in the Little League area event moves to the Louisiana state championship tournament at Alexandria August 1, 2, and 3.

Walter Reed, Monroe businessman who played a leading role in organizing Babe Ruth League play here and over the state when it was known as Little Bigger League, sponsored by the Optimist Club here, has been state director for the last two years and instrumental in bringing the national regional tourney to Monroe. Orville Elkin, coach at Winnsboro High School, will direct the Babe Ruth meet at Winnsboro. The area Little League tournament here will be directed by Louis Nathan "Buddy" Blair, a local Little League official and former major league baseball player with the old Philadelphia Athletics.

Not since Lennie Morrison was swatting the long ball in 1950 or Jake Jacobs was capturing the fancy of the fans with his pitching a couple of years later have the followers of the Twin Cities Sports had such hitting and pitching as they're showing this season by Ed Rippili, Marshlal Gilbert, and Bob Maness in the swat department, and Bill Drummond and Edward Dick in the pitching division.

Manager Ed Head boasts three batters among the top five in the Cotton States League batting race. Rippili, the redheaded third baseman, runs third behind Jim Davenport (.362), El Dorado, and Bill Anderson (.353), Hot Springs, with a fancy .338 mark, according to the latest figures from J. P. Friend, league statistician. Gilbert is fourth at .334, and Maness runs fifth with .332. The Sports' swat trio has appeared in more than half the games played by Anderson.

The Sports have also poled 50 home runs so far with Gilbert sharing the lead with George Blash, Meridian, Joe Lutz, Hot Springs, and Art Letteri, El Dorado, at 13 apiece. Davenport runs next with 11, and Maness is on their heels with ten. In addition to the Gilbert (including two grand slams) and Maness clouts, other Twin Cities' homers accounted for are by Roy Mantle, five; Richie Windle and Don Saatzer, four each; Rippili, Ray Mantle, and Bob Hantak, three each; and Rod Kanehl and Connie Gravitte, one each.

Other batting "leads" include: Runs batted in, Gilbert, 74; total bases, Gilbert, 165 (on 57 singles, 22 doubles, five triples and 13 homers), with Maness second at 153 (on 71 singles, 13 doubles, four triples, and 11 homers); runs, Maness, 77; hits, Maness, 99, with Gilbert second with 97. Gilbert's 22 doubles lead the league.

Drummond leads the pitchers with nine wins against two losses as he has worked 83 2/3 innings in 15 games The lefthander Dick has a 7-2 mark for 15 games and 78 1/3 innings. They are far and away the most effective pitchers in the league. Of 31 runs scored against Drummond, only 13 were earned, and of 30 off Dick, just 16 have been earned.

Dick, Madden Get Sports Their 7th Consecutive Win

VICKSBURG, Miss., July 23 (Special) —Air -tight Twin Cities hurling notched the Sports seventh consecutive win and third straight shutout here tonight, as Ed Dick and Mickey Madden teamed up to blank the Vicksburg Bills, 2-0.

Dick pitched for seven innings, leaving because of an injured hand. He gave up eight hits, but was miserably in the clutches, as evidenced by the 11 runners stranded by the Billies during his term of duty. Madden took up where he left off, and gave up no hits and left three more Bills on the sacks.

Bob Maness was the big gun for the Sports with the lumber, driving in the first run with a long fly, and scoring the second after a leadoff double in the ninth and a run - producing two-bagger by Connie Gravittes.

Three Vicksburgers got two hits apiece; Ray Adams, Wally Widholm, and Bill Carr. None were for extra bases.

After five scoreless innings, the Sports broke the ice with a single marker in the sixth, courtesy of Ed Dick and a Vicksburg miscue. Dick, the leadoff batter, singled to center. When an attempted force at second was thrown wild, the young hurler, as well as batter Rod Kanehl, was safe. Roy Mantle smashed one on the ground that hit Kanehl steaming toward second, and he was automatically out, but Dick moved to third, from where he scored a moment later on a long sacrifice fly by Bob Maness.

Maness and Connie Gravitte teamed up for the Sports' number two run in the ninth. Bob doubled to lead off, and with two away, Gravitte chased him home with the second double of the frame, and the second run of the game.

Wildlife Group Slates Meeting Tuesday Night

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation brings its current membership drive to a close here Tuesday night at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 o'clock in the ball room of Hotel Virginia. Also on the same program will be Joe Herring, new district biologist for this area, who will report on wildlife and fisheries for district two.

A. D. Williams, chairman of the membership drive, announced awards in the membership contest will be made during the course of the meeting. In addition, door prizes will be awarded for both men and women in attendance.

A wildlife film will be shown to start the meeting.

Ed Crowley, unit president, seeking one of the organization's biggest turnouts, said "Every member should attend and bring his wife along. The meeting is open to all whether or not they are members of the unit."

January Takes Air Force Golf At Shreveport

SHREVRPORT, La., July 23 (AP) —First Lt. Don January won the Air Force's Southwest Conference Golf title today and his teammates from Lackland Air Force Base took the team title.

January shot a four-under-par 66 on the Barksdale AFB course for a four-day 17-under-par total of 263.

Lackland AFB finished with 847 strokes, followed by Barksdale AFB with 879 and Perrin AFB with 893.

Relay Match Features Tuesday's Mat Program

A best - of - three falls relay wrestling match is on tap at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, when George Curtis pairs with Charley Laye against villainous Rube Wright and partner Joe McCarthy.

Laye and McCarthy have appeared here previously several years ago, and each have entirely different styles, with Laye being a popular scientific grappler, and McCarthy his opposite.

Curtis, who is wrestling without his favorite tag partner, brother Jack, was on the losing relay team last week, when he and Rex Mobley were defeated by Red Roberts and Mario Calento in a southern championship bout.

However, Laye this week is a capable partner, and he and George should put up a real battle against Wright and McCarthy. The latter will probably fight in the same manner for which his bearded partner from Birmingham is famous here.

The Rube is without a doubt the most unpopular mat figure to appear here since Charro Aztec, and his style certainly makes him so. A snarling, hair - pulling, referee-baiting husky, Wright never fails to take advantage of a turned back.

Two one - fall, ten minute time limit preliminaries will precede the main event, with opposing team members furnishing the opposition.

PITCHER SOLD

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23 — (AP) —Lefty Al Olsen, Oklahoma City's relief specialist, was sold for an undisclosed sum by the Texas League baseball club today to Minneapolis of the American Association.

KANSAS CITY, July 23 (AP)—The New York Yankees blew their chance to climb back into first place in the American League today as the dogged Kansas City Athletics scored seven times in the eighth inning and squeezed out an 8-7 eleventh inning victory on singles by suitcase Simpson and Hector Lopez.

The famed Yankee bench almost pulled out the game in the ninth when pinch hitters Bob Cerv and Elston Howard hit home runs to tie the score at 7-all. But Tom Gorman, coming to the mound in relief for the second day, throttled the Yankees' desperate bid.

With the chicago White Sox beaten today by Boston, the Yankees seemed headed back into first place as Bob Turley was sailing along on a 2-hit shutout through the seventh inning. And the Yankees blasted starter Ray Herbert out with a 3-run eighth inning to make the score 5-0.

Then the Athletics struck, using a Yankee trademark—the big inning. Andy Carey's poor throw on Jim Finigan's bounder gave the A's the opening they needed. Before the inning was over, Finigan was up again and doubled in the final three runs of the 7-run inning that routed Turley and Jim Konstanty and brought in Tommy Byrne.

Alex Kellner came in to pitch the ninth for the A's and Cerv blasted a home run over the 420-foot center field fence. That brought on Gorman, and Howard plastered another homer over the left field barrier. But that was all the Yanks got.

Lakeshore Baptist nosed out First Christian, 8-7, in another Church "B" League game.

Pitchers Gaining On Big 8 League Batting Leaders

RUSTON, La., July 23 (Special) —The pitchers are catching up with the batters in the Big Eight League as the circuit lost two of its .300 or better hitters during the week and the percentage points of the leaders took a drop. Al Paschall, Minden's shortstop from T. C. U., still holds the league lead although he lost 15 points in a drop to .412. He also leads in home runs with six.

Paul Squibbs, Homer, leads the pitchers with a 5-1 record, followed by Milton Spacek, Minden, 3-1; "Bud" McDaniel, Minden, 5-2; "Toby" Newton, Homer, and Ben Alexander, Ruston, each 4-2; Hubert Boales, Minden, 2-1; George Moore, Ruston, and Bill Jackson, Bernice, each 3-2; and Don Goad, Bernice, 4-3.

PLAYOFFS SET

BASTROP, La., July 23 (Special)—Coach Darrell Foreman of the Bastrop American Legion Junior baseball team, north Louisiana champions, announced here tonight his club will open the state semi-finals playoffs with Opelousas here Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at Barons Park.

NO RELIEF FOR WALTERS

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —Talk about relief pitchers in the Texas League and the name of Mel Waters immediately pops up. In the first 71 games played by Tommy Holmes' Fort Worth Cats, pitcher Mel Waters appeared in 31 games.

That's because Fort Worth's hurlers completed only 12 games. Despite this the team has been battling for second place.

When the Baltimore Orioles sold infielder Billy Cox to the Cleveland Indians, he retired from baseball.

Little Loopers Set For Area's Playoffs Here

The area one Little League baseball tournament begins Lions Field with West Monroe Southside facing Monroe Northside at 7:30 tonight.

Tallulah and Winnsboro move into contention Tuesday with Tallulah meeting Monday's first game winner at 5:30, and Winnsboro taking on the second game victory at 7:30. Finals are set for 7 p.m. Wednesday. The tournament winner advances to the state tourney.

Swoon's Son Cops Arlington Park's $144,580 Feature

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP) — Speedy Swoon's Son, the 8-to-5 favorite, turned on the pressure at the stretch turn to win easily by three lengths in the $144,580 Arlington Futurity before 25,112 fans at Arlington Park today.

The son of the Doge, who had not been out of the money in his six starts, impressively took control of this six - furlong test for 2-year-olds and won for his owner, E. Gay Drake, a Lexington, Ky., breeder, the winner's share of $88,140.

Mark's Rickey was second and Golden Bear third in the 14-horse field.

Swoon's Son, cleverly ridden by Dave Erb, paid $5.20, $3.60 and $2.80. Mark's Rickey paid a whopping $44.40 and $14.60. Golden Bear's show price was $6.00.

Swoon's Son, who entered the race as the field's only stakes winner with his triumph in the Bashford Manor at Churchill Downs, was clocked 1:11 1-5, well behind the event's record of 1:10 1-5 by Hasty Road in 1953.

The swift bay colt never has been out of the money in the seven starts of his career and now has earned $106,890.

Davenport Extends Lead In C. S. L. Batting Race

By J. P. FRIEND
COTTON STATES STATISTICIAN

Jim Davenport, El Dorado's prize rookie third baseman, extended his Cotton States League batting lead last week, despite the fact that Jupiter Pluvius took an active part in the loop schedule.

The erstwhile Mississippi Southern star took full advantage of the opportunity by clubbing eight hits in 21 tries for a two-point gain to .352, while his chief competitors were slowing down, possible due to inactivity enforced by showers.

The Oiler star has an impressive 246-89 chart for the 63 games appeared in. He is close in other departmental leaderships with 20 doubles, a dozen home runs, 64 runs and 31 runs batted in.

Bill Drummond, Monroe-West Monroe ace, and Dick Maibauer El Dorado star hurler, added to their laurels as the leading pitcher in percentage and the "winningest" chunker, respectively. Drummond turned back Greenville with two hits Tuesday night for his ninth win out of 11 decisions and third blank job for .818. Victories over Meridian and the Bucks four days apart boosted Maibauer's wins to 13 with four defeats. The Oiler also dished out zeros to Greenville while holding them to a pair of connections. It was his second shutout, the other over Hot Springs. Dick ran his season strikeout total to 145 in 135 and two-thirds innings with 17 during the two triumphs.

The Sports kept ahead in club batting with .279. Hot Springs did likewise on defense with .958.

Devayne Garris Vs. 'Red' Horton In 6-Round Semi

Gus Kallio has a 28-round boxing card lined up for local fistic followers tomorrow night at the local Arena. His stellar attraction, for ten rounds, pits Bill Knauer against Bobby Flores of Houston.

Many fans from this sector will recall hitting Knauer as a top-flight amateur. He attended L.S.U. and was tagged a great prospect. He ran off kayo after kayo, including two over the tough Doug Elwood. Bill departed from California, where he won an A.A.U. while attending San Jose State. He figures it's time to find out what the pros down this way fight like, and Promoter Kallio promptly agreed to bring in Flores from Houston. It's a stern test for Knauer, but he said he wanted no soft touches.

Flores comes highly recommended as an aggressive scrapper. Clippings cite him out as being in some riotious brawls, one in which he and Kid Henry both had to be warned at Beaumont, Tex. recently. In Dallas he and Billy Hodge put on one of the greatest action bouts ever seen in that city. Both were on the deck. Wins over experienced boys like Carlos Saavedra, Frenchy LeBlanc, and Ray "Tortilla" Gonzales stamp him as a rugged individual. He still attends high school in Houston, but he has been in the punch for pay ranks for well over a year now.

In addition to this stellar attraction, Promoter Kallio also announces that he is bringing in several well known fighters from Houston for local boys. Included is Al "Red" Horton, the widely traveled middleweight. Horton might be remembered for his brawl with tough-local boy, Norris Ray, a year or so ago. Horton is scheduled to take on undefeated Devayne Garris in the six-round semi-final.

Three four-round prelims complete the program, with crowd-pleasing Johnny McKoin, Bastrop, taking on Farmerville's Paul Farrar; and Jimmy Fields, Farmerville, vs. Jessie Goins, Monroe; and Henry Burton, Shreveport, vs. Robert Williams, Monroe, in a pair of Negro bouts.

Rebel Quarterbacks Meeting Tomorrow

The West Monroe Quarterback club will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the field house of West Monroe High School.

The special meeting is called in connection with the club's conduct of the advanced sale of season tickets for Rebel football games and also the club's membership drive.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

MISSOULA, Mont (AP) —Montana State University has added another ex-pro football player to its all-new coaching staff. John L. (Jack) Zilly has been named head baseball coach. Zilly, 33, also will coach freshman football and basketball at the Skyline Conference school. He played for end at Notre Dame as well as for two pro teams — the Los Angeles Rams and the Philadelphia Eagles. Zilly joins former pro star Jerry Williams, the head grid coach at MSU.

Hearn Misses No-Hitter In 9th; Giants Nip Reds

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP) — Jim Hearn, veteran New York Giants righthander, pitched 8 1-3 hitless innings today until pinch hitter Chuck Harmon singled in the ninth for the Cincinnati's only hit in a 2-0 Giants' victory.

Harmon, batting for third baseman Milt Smith, worked the count to 3-2 before he lined the ball over shortstop Al Dark's head into left field.

Hearn had retired 20 men in succession from the second to the ninth until Harmon broke the spell. He walked Johnny Temple in the first innings, his only pass, and hit Sam Mele with a pitched ball with two out in the second. After Roy McMillan forced Mele for the final out in the second, the 6-3 husky from Atlanta, Ga., mowed them down.

Most Modern, Shortest Stroke V8's* in any leading truck!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Here's the measure of a truly modern V8 engine —Chevrolet's advanced oversquare design. It means less friction . . . greater efficiency . . . longer engine life!

Here are more dollar-saving reasons why new Chevrolet trucks offer you the most modern V8's* your money can buy!

MODERN 12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM
Double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition for finer performance.

GAS-SAVING HIGH-COMPRESSION RATIO
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power—and work—out of gas.

EXTRA-HIGH POWER PER POUND
Since these V8's deliver high power per pound of engine weight, more power is available for hauling.

ADVANCED AIRCRAFT-TYPE VALVES
Valve action is more positive for finer, smoother performance.

FLOATING OIL INTAKE . . . FULL-PRESSURE LUBRICATION
Oil intake selects the cleanest oil for positive, full-pressure engine lubrication.

*V8 standard in the new L.C.F. models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward-Control models.

Chisox Hold Lead Despite Defeat; Braves Whip Bums

Red Sox 4-Run Rally In Ninth Earns 9-8 Win

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox wtihered away a four run lead today but fired back witn four - run rally in the ninth inning to turn back the Chicago White Sox 8-7.

Despite the setback, the Chicago White Sox maintained their percentage point lead in the Ameri can League as the New York Yankees again lost to Kansas City 8-7.

Bursting into a 5-1 lead on Ted Williams' three - run homer, the Red Sox saw their lead fade away and the White Sox edge ahead in the eighth inning on a two - run homer by Minnie Minoso.

Boston surged back in the ninth inning by sheliacking Dick Donovan for four runs and sending the big righthander to his first defeat after eight successive victories.

The defeat was Chicago's third in 13 games while Boston posted its 19th triumph in the last 25 games.

Williams' 15th homer a tremendous shot over the right field roof, sent the Red Sox spinning ahead. The White Sox battled back, pecking away with single runs in the second, third and fifth innings to go ahead, 6-5, on Minoso's third homer of the year, a drive into the upper deck in left field.

Donovan, who has singled for Virgil Trucks in the eighth inning and counted on Minoso's homer, suffered his third loss against 13 victories.

Trucks relieved starter Harry Byrd in the third inning and shut out the Red Sox with four singles until he was lifted.

Donovan stayed in the game but proved no puzzle to the Red Sox who smacked him with three singles and a pair of walks in the ninth.

With one out, Donovan walked Billy Goodman and Billy Klaus pumped his fourth single of the day into center field. Williams singled to right to drive in Goodman with the tying run and took second on the throw to the plate.

Jackie Jensen was given an intentional pass to load the bases before Norb Zauchin drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and Sammy white slammed out his fourth single to drive in two more.

Record Claimed By Don Campbell In His Turbojet

ULLSWATER, England, July 23 (AP) — Young donald Campbell brought the world's water speed record back to England today when he sent his turbojet Bluebird hurtling over the placid surface of Ullswater Lake at 202.32 miles an hour.

The 34-year-old son of the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, speed king of the Thirties on land as well as in the water, became the first man in speed boat history to exceed 200 miles an hour when the new Bluebird reached a speed of 215.08 miles an hour on his first run. Although he had no way of knowing it, his second run was somewhat slower, 189.57 miles an hour.

The average of 202.32 broke the old record of 178.4 miles an hour set by Stanley Sayres of Seattle three years ago. Young Campbell's time compared with his father's record of 141.74 miles an hour, set Aug. 19, 1939, on Lake Coniston, England.

Although his back gave him some pain after the run, Campbell said he was especially happy about his record in memory of "my dear old skipper."

Ennis Smacks 3 Homers As Phils Maul Cards, 7-2

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP)— Del Ennis' three homers—his 17th, 18th and 19th—accounted for all seven runs today as the ascendant Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 9-2. Robin Roberts gave up nine hits in pitching his 16th victory.

Richie Ashburn was on base when Ennis smacked his first in the first frame. His next came in the sixth with Glen Gorbous aboard. And Ashburn and Bobby Morgan got a free ride home when Ennis hit his third in the seventh.

It was the second time in three days that one player has hit three homers in a single game in Connie Mack Stadium. Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Reds did it last Thursday in a losing cause.

Bolt Ousts Fleck, 3 And 1

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

DETROIT, July 23 (AP) Tommy Bolt, the hatchet man of the PGA tournament, wrenched off another champion's scalp and hung it on his belt today when he eliminated National Open champion Jack Fleck, 3 and 1 in the third round of the 37th championship.

Bolt, who figured he had it made when he knocked out three-time winner Sammy Snead yesterday, remained unshaken and superbly confident when he started badly and found himself 2-down after 14 holes of the 36-hole match. He cut loose a string of birdies on the finishing holes to end the first round all square, matched Fleck stroke for stroke and putt for putt on the first 10 holes of the afternoon round, then spurted ahead to win on the 35th green.

Bolt's superb performance in a tense match that drew a large part of a gallery of 8,000 at the Meadowbrook Club, took the edge off Doug Ford's near-record reat of crushing Wally Ulrich, 12 and 10, and lopsided victories by Fred Hawkins — over 1954 Open champion Ed Furgol—Cary Middlecoff, and Lew Worsham.

Bolt will meet Worsham, the 1947 Open champion, in tomorrow's 36-hole quarter-finals. In the other quarter-final matches, Ford, the "pool table" putter who has given Meadowbrook's par of 35-36—71 its worst beating of the tournament, will meet Hawkins. Blonde Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N. Y., will meet 25-year-old Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., the only real outsider left.

Middlecoff, winner of five tournaments so far this year, will face another representative of the same Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., resort course, Jackie Burke. Jackie, shooting sub-par but not sensational golf, closed out Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., 2 and 1.

Middlecoff crushed Mike Pavella of Washington, Pa., a veteran club pro, 8 and 6. Hawkins, who occasionally flashes red-hot rounds on the pro tour, threw a four-under-par 67 at Furgol on the morning round and closed him out 6 and 5. Worsham won by the same margin from swarthy Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C.

Mayfield and Fairfield survived two of the day's closest matches, played almost unobserved by the galleries. Mayfield, 3-down after 15 holes against his old boss, Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., bounced back in the afternoon to win on the 36th hole, 1-up. Young Fairfield, pro at a nine-hole course in Casey, Ill., outlasted another unknown, Brien charter of Janesville, Wis., 2 and 1.

For superb golf today, it was Ford, whose re-shafted putter seemed to be equipped with radar. Holing the long ones so often that even his frustrated opponent had to joke about it, Ford was ten under par for 26 holes today and 21 under for six trips around the course, including the qualifying rounds.

But for excitement and crowds it was Bolt and Fleck. The gallery was pulling for the Davenport, Iowa, unknown who had beaten the great Ben Hogan for the Open title. Bolt, scornful of everything except his own ability, recognized that and ignored it.

"I felt a little sorry for the gallery," Tommy quipped after the match. "I guess they were down on me because I didn't throw any clubs like I was supposed to do."

Merrins, Robbins Tangle In Finals Of Western Event

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 23 (AP)— Eddie Merrins dropped a 25-foot birdie putt on the 36th hole to beat Don Bisplinghoff 1 up today and move into the finals of the Western Amateur Golf Tournament against Hillman Robbins.

The 36-hole windup in the week long meet is an all-southern finale.

Merrins, 22, is the recent Colonial Invitation champion from Meridian, Miss. Robbins is the 1954 intercollegiate king from Memphis State.

In three previous match - play tournaments, Robbins has closed out Merrins. He did it 3-2 in 1953 at the Colonial, 2-1 in the 1954 Northwood at Meridian and 4-3 this year at the Northwood.

Robbins advanced to the championship showdown, starting at 8 a.m. CST tomorrow, by edging the host Rockford Country Club's Alex Welsh, 2 and 1, in the double round semi-finals.

Bisplinghoff, North-South champion from Orlando, Fla., was never up on the cool, calculating Merrins, who went 4-up after the morning turn and boosted it 5 up on the 28th hole.

Redskins Shade Birds On Evers' Two-Run Homer

CLEVELAND, July 23 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who traded pitcher Bill Wight to Baltimore for Hoot Evers last week, beat the Orioles 3-2 today as Evers smashed a pinch two - run homer off Wight in the seventh inning.

Evers' homer, his seventh of the season and first in Cleveland uniform, scored Sam Dente, who had a pinch single with two out.

Wight, a tall lefthander, making his first start against his former teammates had given up only four single and two walks until the seventh.

The victory, Cleveland's second straight in the series, went to Jose Santiago, a young Puerto Rican righthander called up yesterday from Cleveland's Indianapolis farm club.

Dodgers Crushed 11-6; Homers Hit By Adcock, Pafko

BROOKLYN, July 23 (AP) — Milwaukee rallied with six runs in the seventh inning as Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko hit successive home runs on the way to an 11-6 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Adcock's 15th homer with Eddie Mathews on base tied the score and Pafko's second of the year put the Braves out front to stay. A two-run triple by pinch hitter George Crowe was the blow that finished loser Ed Roebuck, who came in when starter Karl Spooner pulled a muscle in his left shoulder in the sixth.

Tigers Use Home Runs To Trounce Senators, 10 To 4

DETROIT, July 23 (AP) — Two late inning home run surges by the Washington Senators were not enough to offset four home runs by the Detroit Tigers today as Detroit took the first game of a scheduled double header, 10-4.

The second game was rained out in the last of the fourth with the score tied 2-2.

5 CONVENIENT LOTS — TAG'S, INC. — 5 CONVENIENT LOTS

ATTENTION! LOOK! READ!

We are today buying some cars CHEAPER than in the past. The strike threat is over and cars are more plentiful therefore—we are able to do better buying. We will gladly pass the savings on to our customers. Our 90 DAYS OR 4,000 MILES GUARANTEE is as good as any dealer's guarantee in Louisiana.

Our cars are serviced and inspected by men who have had years and years of experience in their line of work. We have in stock 59 unlicensed CHEVROLETS, FORDS, PLYMOUTHS, OLDSMOBILES, BUICKS and G. M. C. PICK-UPS. If we don't have the color or style you want check with any of our 5 lot managers—it may be on our next convoy. Usual terms $295 DOWN—UP TO 30 MONTHS ON BALANCE. Pay us a visit—you will be glad you did. Buy from the lot manager of your choice.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY CLASSIFIED DISPLAY CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

They Both Look Alike ...BUT ONE'S A CHAMP!

Automobiles Can Look Alike, Too, But The Dealer You Buy From Makes The Difference!

You Are Assured of Satisfaction of Ownership When You Purchase Your Car Or Truck From Your Local Factory Authorized Dealer

EXPERIENCE—
Your local authorized dealers have a combined experience of several hundred years of service. They have the "know-how" to keep your car or truck giving the maximum of service at a minimum of cost.

REPUTATION—
When you buy a car or truck from a local Factory Authorized Dealer, you are buying, not only transportation, but his reputation and good name. He is established and plans to be here tomorrow to back up your purchases of today.

SERVICE FACILITIES—
Your local Factory Authorized Dealers have hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in modern buildings and scientific equipment to keep YOUR car or truck on the go! Factory trained mechanics using genuine factory parts insure you of having the best in materials and workmanship.

Yes, there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that

"If the Dealer is Right, the Car Can't Be Wrong!"

Episcopal Laymen To Meet Nov. 16

ALEXANDRIA, La., July 23 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones told the Louisiana Episcopal Laymen's Conference in a letter today the Louisiana church's 150th anniversary celebration will begin in New Orleans Nov. 16.

The conference met at Camp Hardtner, near Pollock, 20 miles north of here. Some 200 persons attended.

Church To Hold Homecoming Rites In West Monroe

A special homecoming service will be held at 11 a.m. today at the First United Penecostal Church, 812 Wheelis street, West Monroe, for Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Pardue, who recently returned from five years missionary service in Indonesia, Sumatra and Java.

Rev. Pardue, who is here on six-months furlough, will be guest pastor at the service, following which dinner will be served on the church grounds.

After the dinner, Mrs. Pardue will discuss the conversion of Buddhists and tell of their experiences with the Batak tribe, which had never seen white people before the Pardues arrived. Their two daughters, Shelba and Syble, will sing for the group in the Indonesian and Batak languages.

Following their furlough here the Pardues will return to the Far East and then regiven assignment.

Sunday school will be held at 10 a.m.

Rev. David Varnado an evangelist for the revival now in progress and the son of the Pastor — Rev. A. D. Varnado — will be the speaker at the evening service. The Varnado and Harmony trios will sing during the afternoon and at the evening services.

Sulphur Youth Named President Of 4-H Committee

BATON ROUGE, July 23—UP—Kenny Guidry of Sulphur will serve as the new president of the 4-H executive committee of the state, it was announced today.

He was elected at the annual meeting of the committee held at L.S.U. Thursday. The executive committee is the governing body of the state's 78,000 member 4-H organization.

Other committee officers elected were Bobby Thigpen of Bossier City, vice-president; Jo Ann Gilbert of Marion, secretary; Jerry Walley of Lake Providence, treasurer, and Charles Tannehill of Urania, parliamentarian.

Assistance For Youth Is Roundtable Topic

Youth will take the spotlight on today's presentation of the Jaycee Roundtable, a weekly television show produced by the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tom Brulte, Jr., moderator on the show, announced yesterday.

A panel composed of Jack Hesketh, Monroe recreation director; Judge Jesse S. Heard, Fourth District Court; Rev. W. H. McFadden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Major John B. Whitfield, Chief Monroe Police Department juvenile division, will discuss the question, "What can a community do to help its youth?"

Program arrangements are by Jim Whitman and Pete Dowd.

Telephone operators will include Francis McLeland, Pat Marnell, and J. D. Cameron.

Facing Charges

SHREVEPORT, La. July we—UP—Willie M. Allen, 45, faced charges of careless and reckless driving today after being jailed yesterday following a traffic accident. Allen, driving a truck, allegedly caused severe injuries to Mrs. J A. Banfield, 32, of Shreveport.

Corn Bulls Find Going Tough With Midwest Weather

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP) — Hot, humid weather throughout the Midwest made the bulls in corn highly uncomfortable on the Board of Trade this week. And not only from the temperature standpoint.

The corn bulls—and there are some—took a licking in their pocketbooks.

As temperatures soared, corn grew rapidly and prices declined. On most days during the week all corn futures sank into new low ground since trading in them started. Sporadic rallies quickly faded.

Other grains also declined.

For the week wheat finished 5/8-1 1/8 lower, corn 2 7/8-3 1/2 lower, oats 1 3/4-2 1/4 lower, rye 3/4 lower to 1/2 higher, soybeans 1 1/2 lower to 2 1/4 higher and lard 45 to 73 cents a hundred pounds lower.

28 Negroes Hurt In Arkansas Bus Wreck

LITTLE ROCK ,July 23 (AP) —A Salvation Army bus taking a group of Negro children on a picnic overturned 25 miles west of here today, injuring 28.

Attendants at three Little Rock hospitals said none of the victims was hurt seriously.

State trooper Melvin Delong said most of the injuries were caused by broken soft drink bottles. There were 49 passengers on the bus, he said.

OLD BISCUIT

TROY, Ala. —(UP) — Wallace Moore has a 53-year-old biscuit. It was served to him at breakfast the morning before he left college in 1901 for the Christmas holidays. Although it's cracked in a few places, Moore said the biscuit is still in fair condition and is easily recognizable for what it is.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR POLICEMEN

The uniformed man who works his beat, ever ready to combat lurking danger, is an officer of the city, working for you. All through the stillness of the night . . . when homes are dark and stealth is on the prowl . . . your watchful Policeman is going his rounds. Smiling, pleasant faced, he is a mountain of security clad in blue, to little children and grownups alike. He is their friend, their protector, their laughing pal, on accasion . . . and who of us would have it any other way! So let's be considerate and really warm-hearted toward our fine Policemen. The Cop, please remember, is one of our most dependable citizens!

Miss Shafto Chooses Wedding Attendants

Miss Ann Shafto has chosen the attendants for her marriage to John P. Noel, Jr., which will be celebrated August 9.

The ceremony will be performed at 7 p. m. in Grace Episcopal Church with a reception following in the garden of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. Wesley S. Shafto on North Third St.

Mrs. Aylmer Montgomery, Jr., will be her matron of honor. Other attendants will include Miss Carol Clark of McDade, maid of honor, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Frances Black and Mrs. Wiley H. Sharp Jr., of Hammond, bridesmaids.

Edel F. Blanks, Jr., will serve Mr. Noel as best man. Groomsmen and ushers include Aylmer Montgomery, Jr., Herbert Wilson, Bobby Shafto, brother of the bride, Jack Baugh, and J W. Richards, Jr.

Miss Terry Plans Wedding For August 21

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Terry of Bastrop, Louisiana of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Ava Dean, to Carl Allen Noble of Shreveport, La. He is the son of Mr. Fleming Austin Noble and the late Mrs. Noble of Shreveport, La.

The wedding will be solemnized August 21 at the First Presbyterian Church, in Bastrop with Dr. O. M. Anderson, pastor, officiating.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Braxton Choat of Jonesboro, Tex. and the late Rev. and Mrs. Elisha Terry of Evant, Tex.

Miss Terry is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La., where she was a member of Sigma Kappa social fraternity.

Mr. Noble is the grandson of Mrs. William Alfred Wright of Shreveport and the late Mr. Wright and of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Green Noble of Pride, La., formerly of Liverpool, England.

The bridegroom elect attended U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles, Calif., and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La. where he studied geological engineering. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. Mr. Noble served with the First Marine Division in the First Marine Air Wing and First Marine Air Ground Task Force.

Prenuptial Parties Begin For Miss Amalie Nichols

Miss Amalie Nichols' prenuptial parties began Thursday when her aunts, Mrs. John B. Oakland and Mrs. Ruby Oakland Warner, entertained at a beautiful afternoon tea in the Oakland home on Auburn avenue between four and six o'clock.

At the door greeting guests were Mrs. C. Elliott Thompson and Mrs. Pete Dunn.

In the receiving line with Miss Nichols who was wearing a trousseau frock of grey silk organza and the hostesses were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Darwin Nichols, who wore a pink and white tucked cotton and Mrs. Jack Gaines, the prospective bridegroom's mother, who was striking in a pink polished summer cotton.

Of focal interest in the living room was a mass arrangement of althea and caladium leaves. The punch bowl, placed on a glass - top table in the dining room, was surrounded by ivy and roses. Underneath the table was a matching arrangement of roses. White tapers illuminated the punch table at which Mrs. R. M. Troy presided.

Assisting in serving were Miss Elstner Frazier, Miss Ann Flinn, Mrs. John Strickler and Miss Lynda Davis.

At other points throughout the party rooms were arrangements of magnolias, magnolia leaves and banana plants.

More than one hundred and seventy guests called during the late afternoon.

Miss Warren Pledges Vows

VIDALIA — Miss Betty Marcelle Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Warren of Bastrop, was married to Richard Monroe Moncrief, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Moncrief of Vidalia in a ceremony which was performed Friday, July 15th at 7:30 o'clock p. m. in the Vidalia Baptist Church.

Her brother, Rev. Ramon Warren officiated at the double ring ceremony at which only the immediate families were present.

Add a little poultry seasoning to buttered bread cubes; use as a topping for a creamed chicken casserole.

Barbara Rawls Becomes Bride Of B. J. Bayles

Miss Barbara Jeanne Rawls became the bride of Bobby James Bayles in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday at 7:30 o'clock in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

The Rev. L. G. Conway performed the nuptial rites.

The altar was decorated with an arch of greenery and white roses, flanded by baskets of white gladiolas and white cathedral tapers, against a background of greenery.

Miss Jonnie Cloud was pianist and accompanied Miss Beth Thompson who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. P. S. Gaston, was wearing a waltz-length gown of lace over satin with a sculptured bodice. Her veil was a finger-tip length. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and wore lace gloves which came to points over the wrists.

Miss Joyce Barton of Gilbert was maid of honor. Her dress was a light pink satin ballerina length fashioned from the bride's. She wore pink accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Eddie G. Bayles, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Charles Gaston and Robert Eugene Rawls.

Mrs. P. C. Gaston chose a pink nylon with white accessories and a purple orchid.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a fitted pink linen

A reception followed in the Gaston's home on North Third street in West Monroe.

Mixed arrangements of summer flowers were used throughout the party rooms.

The bride's table was overlaid in a lace cloth and centered with red roses.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride changed to a pink two-piece dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon return, they will make their home in this city.

The bride graduated from West Monroe High School and attended Northeast State College.

Mr. Bayles attended Ouachita Parish High School, Gulf Coast Military Academy at Gulfport, Miss., and Northeast Louisiana State College.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. Robert E. Rawls of Shreveport; Eddie G. Bayles of Camp LeJeune, N. C: Mr. and Mrs. D. Watson and LaRue of Point; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers of Bastrop.

Mix diced leftover boiled potatoes with diced ham. Arrange in a pie plate, pour a little cream over and top with grated cheese. Heat under the broiler until hot through and the top is bubbly and lightly browned.

Sandifer-Paulk Vows Pledged In Afternoon

FERRIDAY, — Miss Alda Paulk of Ferriday and Benjamin L. Sandifer of Jonesville were united in marriage on Friday afternoon in the First Baptist church parsonage in Jonesville.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an improvised alter by the pastor, Rev. James O. McNair.

Mrs. John R. Fuglaar was natron of honor and John R. Fuglaar srved as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs E. C. Paulk of Larto, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. Sandifer of Jonesville.

After the wedding the couple left on a short wedding trip. At present the groom is attending college and in early August they will return to make their home in Jonesville.

Pretty pastry shells, in individual size, are easy to make. For each shell cut out four 2½-inch circles from pie dough. Overlap the circles in muffin - pan cups and bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Use stick - form piecrust mix for the pastry because it won't toughen as you reroll to cut the small circles for the shells.

Beon-Barton Vows Pledged On Wednesday

Wednesday evening in a twilight ceremony, in the presence of relatives and close friends, Miss Dorothy Barton and Mr. Robert Beon Russell pledged their vows with the Reverend W. H. McFadden performing the impressive ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, the Reverend J. E. Barton, of Sterlington. She was wearing an ice blue nylon waltz - length model with accordian pleated skirt and close fitting jacket which buttoned with medallions of self material and were centered with a single rhinestone. Her slippers were of white nylon lace.

The maid of honor, and only attendant was Miss Wanda Calhoun. She was wearing a polished linen creation with mint green the predominant color, and featuring a close fitting jacket of mint green.

Mr. Bill Jones served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests were invited into the reception rooms which were beautifully decorated with arrangements of pink and white roses with sprays of green fern. The bride's table was covered with a lovely linen cloth with outstanding figures of cut work, and placed in the center was a three - tiered wedding cake embossed with pink bride's roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom with wedding bells overhead. Resting at one end of the table was an arrangement of pink and white roses placed in a low crystal bowl with garlands fashioned of pink and white streamers with green fern. On the opposite end of the table was the crystal punch bowl. Mrs. A. V. Sciro, wearing a lovely model of sheer black organza with a single pink rose at the "V" line of the bodice, presided at the punch service.

After the guests had been served and seated Miss Carol Ann Sciro wearing a yellow frock, passed pink and white bon bons among them.

The bride's mother selected for the occasion a lovely ice blue silk model. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. A. C. Russell, Jr., was wearing a pink and white trim model of nylon.

'Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. Chris Slavant and Mrs. Bill Jones.

Immediately after the reception the bride and groom departed on their wedding trip.

Out - of - town guests were: Reverend and Mrs. J. E. Barton and daughter, Martha Barton; Reverend and Mrs. Cason; Mrs. B. W. Walls; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell, Jr., and son.

Young people love this soda: put a couple of tablespoons of chocolate - flavored syrup (the kind that comes in cans) in each glass. Add cola beverage and a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Stir a few seconds with a long spoon to combine the chocolate syrup and the cola, then serve to appreciative youngsters.

MISS BETTY JOAN HENDERSHOT'S engagement to Henry A. Halverson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Halverson of San Carlos, Calif., is made known by her father, Claude A. Hendershot of Minden. The wedding is to be August 4 in the Carlmont Methodist Church, San Carlos, Calif., at 8 o'clock in the evening. The engaged couple both attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston and will make their home in Vinton, where Mr. Halverson will teach and be assistant coach.

Gunnellis-Noble Wedding Solemnized In Shreveport

Miss Margery Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Noble of this city, and Lt. Drew J. Gunnellis, Jr., of Shreveport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnellis, also of that city, were married in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday evening, July 22, in the First Baptist Church in Shreveport. The Rev. Harold C. Bennett, assistant pastor, performed the double ring wedding.

Floral arrangements of white stock and peonies were placed against a background of greenery which was illuminated by white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra.

Miss Marjorie Casanova presented nuptial music and accompanied Mr. Larry Daniel, the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned of nylon tulle with a sculptured bodice, portrait neckline and short shirred sleeves, all of which was outlined with a flowered appliqued lace. The full skirt featured layers of tulle and flowered lace bands which extended into a circling chapel - length train. She wore gauntlets of shirred nylon tulle which came to points over the wrist. Her headdress was a tiara of seed pearls in a scalloped design which held her double tiered veil of imported illusion. Her bouquet was of white bridal roses backed with nylon tulle and cascading satin streamers.

Miss Betty Jane Wilson, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was of frosty white organdy with a pleated portrait neckline and bouffant waltz-length skirt. A light blue taffeta sash was tied in butterfly bow in the back. Her hat was of light blue circlets dotted with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, pink feathered carnations, backed with blue maline and streamers of light blue satin.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sue Ann Gunnell, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Shirley Spence and Miss Nancy Oakes, all of Shreveport.

They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor's and carried colonial bouquets matching the honor attendant.

The candels were lighted by Miss Aura Lee Tompkins and Mr. Hoyt Tompkins.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Philip Kircus of San Antonio, Texas. Ushers were Jame Bruce of Alexandria, Rex Sandifer and John Miller of Shreveport.

The bride's mother chose a light blue lace trimmed in rhinestones with a matching blue satin hat and corsage of brown cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Gunnells, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a mauve lace with matching flower hat and corsage of pale green cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony in the bride's room of the church.

Parents of the couple greeted the guests at the door. In the receiving line were the bridal couple and their feminine attendants.

The bride's table held the crystal punch bowl and large wedding ring cake placed on a reflector and surrounded by white blossoms and the crystal punch bowl. Branched candelabra held white tapers ringed by dainty white blossoms. At the base of the candelabra was the bride's bouquet.

For a wedding trip to the Ozark Muontains, the bride changed to a pale green silk cotton frock with green velvet accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The couple will make their home at 1111 Fenfield, San Antonio, Texas.

The bride graduated from Byrd High School and Baylor University.

Mr. Gunnells graduated from Fair Park High School and received his B. A. degree from Baylor University.

How To Pamper Husband's Pipe

Every once in a while an industrious wife will go too far in cleaning up her husband's parahernalia. One horrible example was the girl who boiled her husband's favorite pipe and soaked it in detergent to get it spotlessly clean.

Whatever happens, resist the urge to tamper with your husband's pipes unless you know the formula. But if you insist, here's the way experts care for pipes.

1 Tap the bowl gently in your palm to remove stale tobacco (not on the edge of a hard surface.)

2. Separate the pipe into two parts — bowl and mouthpiece.

3. Push pipe cleaner or two through stem and mouthpiece to clean out stale tobacco and moisture.

4. Scrape excess carbon deposits on bowl with reamer, leaving a cooling film of carbon about the thickness of a thin dime.

5. Revive briar luster by rubbing against the side of your nose. (Skin oil helps to impart a sheen.)

6. Assemble and stand pipe, bowl down, in rack with a fresh, dry cleaner through mouthpiece and stem. (Never hang a pipe with the stem up.)

Sumptuous first course: red caviar served with small thin squares of pumpernickel bread and cream cheese whipped until fluffy with a little heavy cream. Have a pepper grinder handy, too.

MISS GLORIA ANN CALHOUN'S engagement and approaching marriage to James Gilbert Lee is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Lavelle Calhoun of West Monroe. Girl Scout News

Another successful day camp ended Thursday with visitors all over the place, many of them seeing Pine Wood for the first time. Mothers and dads and sisters and brothers brought picnic lunches and ate supper in the various units. Just before dusk the 100 campers and all the visitors lined up in horseshoe formation around the flagpole for a colors ceremony in charge of the Wemonba Unit.

From the flag circle the group went to the campfire circle where the girls sang again all their favorite songs and the intermediates received cards from their unit leaders stating what badge work they had done at camp. After a goodnight circle, campers and friends left for home. We hope they had enough fun that all will come back again next year.

The Little Pines Brownie Unit has had Mrs. E. J. Norman and Mrs. Frank Serio as leaders, Mary Pearl Coates and Donna Rose Hildabridge as program aides. Enrolled have been: Anne Armstrong, Nerissa Bell, Brenda Carso, Peggy Cook, Brenda Crow, Marilyn Denoux, Polly Drennan, Theda Jo Hakim, Janet Kiper, Catherine Martin, Pat Pickett, Connie Polson, Lela Rowan, Alice Ruth Serio, Diane Stringer, Kaki Stone, and Diane Womack.

Mrs. I. L. Causey and Mrs. E. M. Varnado have been leaders for the Whispering Pines Unit with Ann McCarty, Joanie Dupy and Yvonne Huckabee as program aides. The following fourth grade Brownies camped in the unit: Billie Marie Agin, Ann Carroll, Karen Crow, Diane Halley, Sandra Heller, Pat Herlevic, Pat Hogan, Jateen Kelly, Helen Martin, Deas Parrish, Belva Grace Polson, Cheri Lea Southard, and Becky Parkerson.

On Hickory Hill, also a fourth grade unit, Mrs. Leon Noland, Jr. served as unit leader, with Beverly Rushing, Betty Hemphill and Ingrid Peterson as program aides. Campers were: Linda Atkinson, Patricia Ann Ayers, Barbara Black, Cheryl Brooks, Anne Breard, Sandra Booth, Lauralee Brisbin, Jerry Lee Clark, Judy Engstrom, Paula Sue Johnson, Gwendolyn Gelis, Dorothy Gibson, Diantha McBride, Becky Middleton, Libby Snapp, and Michele Varnado.

In Gumball corner Mrs. A. M. Kite and Mrs. Middleton were leaders, with Carolyn Fruend and Nancy Martin as program aides. The following fly-ups were the campers: Beverly Ann Bagwell, Frances Byrd, Rose Canizaro, Carolyn Causey, Kathleen Cochran, Diane Dyer, Linda Engstrom, Ann Edmondson, Brenda Farmar, Laura Fruend, Judy Gill, Mary Kathryn Kite, Mary Kate McCarty, Judy Miller, Janet Noland, Pat Porter, Doris Solomon, Sandra Shutting, Elaine Spencer, Charlotte Sodd, Barbara Tynes, and Heidi Rowan.

Down in a hollow under the trees, the girls of Wemonbo Unit made a home. Mrs. Leon Carpenter, Marie Nelson, Betty Hines were in charge of this group. Campers were: Marion Ashley, Beverly Brown, Linda Blackark, Margie Bell, Beverly Bartlett, Carole Ann Clark, Carol Curry, Sandra Farmer, Mickey Fezatte, Linda Graham, Jo Ann Higginbotham, Diane Landreaux, Frances Norman, Sandra Poole, Ann Quillen, Beth Roberts, Mary Margaret Babin, Helen Carol Groves, and Maureen Kelly.

Under the pines at a far end of camp was the explorer unit, carrying on an active program based on badges in the nature field. Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, Mrs. D. W. Ford, and Dee Barksdale were in charge of the following girls: Judy Lee, Charlotte Bedenbaugh, Marilyn Roard, Cora Fay Leonard, Susie Quillen, Nancy Clare Noland, Ronnie Hervey, Rose Ann Cascio, Nancy Wilson, Brenda Cobb, Mary Martin, and Charlotte Ford.

Mrs. C. C. Bedenbaugh was in charge of supplies at the hall, and Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive, served as camp director. Mrs. Bedenbaugh, camp chairman, has asked all staff members to meet at her home, 309 Garden Drive, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock to evaluate camp and make tentative plans for next year.

Methodist Church Is Scene Of Ford-McClanahan Wedding

Miss Dolores Elwanda McClanahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McClanahan, became the bride of Wayne Hinson Ford, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford of Plain Dealing in an impressive double ring ceremony at 5 o'clock Saturday.

The Rev. George W. Pomeroy performed the nuptial rites before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolas, greenery and branched candelabra which held white cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Everett Zeagler, organist, accompanied Mrs. George Temple who sang "Because," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown fashioned of white nylon chiffon with an embroidered lace midriff. The bodice was fitted and featured small sleeves with a voluminous skirt which was gathered. Her headdress was a halo of lace with an illusion veil. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. M. S. Foster of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was a waltz - length orchid net over taffeta ornamented with purple velvet bows and a scalloped hemline. She carried a crescent bouquet of large purple asters.

Miss Marcia Ford was a bridesmaid. Her gown was fashioned identical to the honor attendant's in a lavender shade. Her bouquet and headdress also matched the matron of honor's.

The candles were lighted by Miss Pat Patterson and Mrs. J. L. Newcomer, Jr. They wore gowns which matched the attendants with wristlets of purple asters.

Mr. R. J. Goza, Jr., served the bridegroom as best man.

Groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Botsy McClanahan, Mr. J. L. Newcomer, Jr., and Mrs. Jack Sedberry.

The bridegroom's mother chose for the wedding a royal blue silk shantung suit with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the wedding in the reception rooms of the First Methodist church.

The bride's table was decorated with pink rosebuds and greenery and was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Assisting with the courtesies at the reception were Mrs. R. J. Goza, Jr., Mrs. Sam Donald, Jr., Mrs. Alvie Wilkinson, Mrs. Dewey Mobley, Jr.

For a wedding trip to Pensacola, Fla., the bride changed to a white linen suit with matching accessories.

The bridegroom graduated from Bossier City High school and attended Northeast Louisiana State College and Louisiana State University before entering the navy.

Among the out - of - town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coleman of Ruston; Mrs. M. S. Foster of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ford, Miss Marcia Ford and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bass, all of Plain Dealing; Mr. Roy E. Holloway of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. John A. Benson of Bastrop; Miss Billie M. Weatherly of Bastrop.

MRS. MITCHELL P. MILETELLO

Miss Scurria Becomes Bride Of J. A. Giliberto

TALLULAH — At a nuptial mass at St. Edward's Catholic Church here on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Mary Ann Scurria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scurria was married to Joseph Anthony Giliberto of Glendale, Calif., son of Mr. Tony Giliberto and the late Mrs. Giliberto of Glendale. Father Bernard Maguire officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony.

Arrangements of white stock, pompom chrysanthemums and fern and Cathedral candles in graduated candelabra decorated the altar and chancel. Groups of three candles and palm leaves were paced in the windows and the reserved pews were marked with white maline and satin ribbon bows.

Mrs. Sam Scurria, accompanied by Miss Grace Michele of Grenada, Miss., was soloist.

Miss Marie Phillips, cousin of the bride and Miss Doris Michele of Grenada, Miss., bridesmaids and Miss Jennie Scurria, of Glendale, Calif., sister of the bride, maid of honor, wore identical dresses of sun yellow crystalette fashioned with long moulded torso bodices; the soft folds accenting the low necklines ending in bows in the back with long streamers, and long full skirts. They wore bandeaux of yellow flowers in their hair and carried bouquets of purple asters and orchid colored florets of stock.

Little Nancy Catherine Scurria and Joseph Michael Scurria, niece and nephew of the bride were the flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl was dressed exactly like the bridesmaids and carried a basket of rose petals.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was pointed in front and closed in the back with lace covered buttons. A yoke of tulle extended from the sweetheart neckline of the bodice to the high Queen Ann's lace collar at the throat and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The voluminous skirt featured lace panels which fell into a Cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a coronet of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations and lilies of the valley centered with a purple throated orchid.

The bridegroom had as his best man, Phillip J. Scurria, brother of the bride. Joe Scurria and Anthony Scurria served as groomsmen and the ushers were Sammy Scurria and Andrew Lombardo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scurria chose a dress of rose lace and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Giliberto, the groom's stepmother, was wearing an ecru lace and linen with which she wore a corsage of vanda orchids.

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the Tallulah Country Club which was decorated with white flowers and greenery. Guests were invited to register in the bride's book by Mrs. Phillip J. Scurria.

Punch in crystal bowls was served by Miss Angelina Scurria and Mrs. Charles Edward Cox of Oak Grove. Mrs. James Roy Medlin presided at the circular table with its organdy cover where the four tiered wedding cake was paced. Throughout the reception piano selections were played by Mrs. Harold J. Smith.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Chicago and New York the bride was wearing a beige printed linen in shades of green and brown and a cocoa brown duster with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal flowers.

Mrs. Giliberto is a graduate of the Tallulah High School and the school of home economics of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Theta Upsilon, social sorority. Mr. Giliberto graduated at the Crane Technical High School in Chicago. He served in the 40th Division of the National Guard with two years in Japan. The coupe will reside in Glendale, Calif. where Mr. Giliberto is associated with his father in business and Mrs. Giliberto is a teacher of home economics at the Sun Valley High School.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Tom Peters, Mrs. James Scalia and Miss Linda Scalia, Mrs. R. E. Schott and Mrs. Frank Earl Maxwell of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michele and son, Phillip of Grenada, Miss., Mrs. Lena Scurria and daughter, Sandra of Starkville, Miss., Miss Mary Below, of Ruston, Mrs. Charles Edward Cox of Oak Grove; and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Scurria of Aberdeen, Miss.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple

FERRIDAY — Mr. Ralph Coleman of Ferriday is announcing the marriage of his daughter, Miss Delphia Coleman to Charles Wilber Jacques, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jacques of Ferriday.

The ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jacques in Ferriday. The Rev. Ulysses Coleman of Jena performed the ceremony.

16-Year-Olds Do Well In College, Experiment Shows

EASTON, Pa. —(UP) — An experiment at Lafayette College has proved that outstanding students with only two years of high school preparation can enter college at the age of 16 and do excellent work.

The experiment began in 1951 when 30 boys, at an average age of 16, entered Lafayette in the "Early Admission Program." Of the 30 in the first class of the four - year program, 22 were members of this year's graduating class. Many of them received high honors.

Only two of the remaining eight were found not ready for college work and were advised to return to high school. Of the other six: one whose work was satisfactory returned to high school of his own accord; one transferred to Massachusetts Institute of Technology; one transferred to the University of Miami when his family moved to the South; one was accepted by the U. S. Military Academy; one enlisted in the Navy and the sixth was dropped because of excessive absences.

The program was sponsored by the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Of the graduates, four were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary academic society. This was nearly 20 per cent of the group, compared to three per cent elected from older students in the graduating class.

Eight, or nearly 40 per cent, were on the dean's list, compared to 12 per cent of the rest of the students at the college.

Eight of the 22 members of the experimental class will go on to further study in graduate schools.

The college found that their adjustment to college life did not vary from the others, despite their age. Practically all took part in extra-curricular events, including sports, fraternities, student publications and other organizations.

Fifteen were enrolled in the liberal arts courses, five in engineering and two in chemistry. Since the program was inaugurated four years ago, 75 students have been admitted under the program.

Miss Russo Is Bride Of M. P. Miletello

Miss Virginia Louise Russo, daughter of Mrs. Victor Peptone and the late Ned Russo, became the bride of Mitchell P. Miletello, son of Paul Miletello and the late Mrs. Miletello at 9 o'clock in the morning at St. Matthew's Catholicl Church. White gladioli decorated the altars and Mrs. Della Williamson, organist and Tony Danna, soloist, presented the nuptial music.

The bride given in marriage by her step father, was wearing a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with a round neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. The very full skirt ended in a chapel train. Her three quarter veil fell from a cap of lace, trimmed in pearls and sequins.

The bride's sister, Miss Sally Peptone was her maid of honor. Miss Sally Ann Bordonaro of Port Arthur, Tex., Miss Patsy Miletello of Baton Rouge and Miss Athonette Cascio were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of aqua blue nylon net with new elongated bodices trimmed in scrowl design of peau de soie. They wore half hats of aqua straw with rhinestone trim and tiny nose veils.

Miss Patsy Danna served as flower girl and Salvadora Miletello was ring bearer.

Leo Tichel was the best man to the bridegroom and groomsmen were P. J. Tornatore, Anthony Danna and Cado Miletello.

A reception was held at the Frances Hotel immediately following the ceremony.

Cut slices of French bread on the slant and spread one side of each slice generously with butter; sprinkle the butter with poppyseeds. Toast in a very hot oven after you have placed the bread, poppyseed side up, on a cookie sheet.

ROAMIN' IN THE RURAL

—With Euna Spielman

July 24-30 Nat. Farm Safety Week

Farm safety is not new but it is more important each year. If a hostile nation were to bomb our country killing 14,000 people and injuring 1,200,000, congress would declare war within a few hours.

Last year more than 14,000 farm residents were killed and 1,200,000 injured in farm accidents. In fact, accidents of farm workers in the United States rates highest among the accidents reported for all types of industry in this country. This is appalling. Efforts constantly are being made to induce farm people to work and live more safely. Yet we haven t really got to the root of the trouble. Laws are not the answer—they are only so many words in a statute book and have no power to enforce themselves. One of the oldest safety laws is written in the Bible (Deuteronomy 22-8). This law required builders to put a safety balustrade around the flat roofs of homes to protect the lives of those who went up on the roof in the evening, where they visited and often slept during summer nights. The Bible also states the cure for law breaking. Paul said, "Love is the fulfilling of the law."

Unless life is sacred to us and we love to live, the lives of our neighbors may become unimportant. Every farm worker is using more machinery as he operates his farm. The farm homemaker is using many appliances in her homemaking job today. This requires constant effort toward safety. Each person on the farm can help reduce this death toll and these injuries by constantly bearing in mind, "My safety is in my hand."

It has been suggested that a sign be placed on the instrument board of each car bearing the words, "Thou shall not kill." Let's keep safety as a first aim in every home.

It's Time To Dig Bulbs

Those bulbs which are crowded and need dividing should be dug now while they are dorment. The clumps should be spread out in thin layers in order to dry them out as rapidly as possible, but bright sun should be avoided. When sufficiently dry, the clumps should be placed in shallow trays or flats and stored in a dry well ventilated place. If drying is slow it is advisable to use an electric fan at intervals to speed it up. Late September is planting time here. All bulbs should be planted in . soil that has been dug and thoroughly pulverized to a depth of 12 inches and fertilized with four pounds of 5-10-5 per 100 square feet of bed. The depth of planting varies with the type of bulb. A common rule usually recommended is four times the diameter of the bulb. By separating and spacing bulbs eight inches apart they may be left in place four or five years. Let's make Ouachita Parish more beautiful with our native bulbs.

Transportation To Farm And Home Week

The Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council has secured transportation for the women who desire to attend the Farm and Home Week, August 8-11 at LSU. Anyone desiring to make the trip with the group should get in touch with the agent at once.

Chlordane For Ants

Midsummer is the season when houses and yards are invaded by troops of ants. To get rid of these pests the first step is to find their nests and then treat them with an insecticide-chlordane. The most effective insecticide to use in the home is a two percent oil-base chlordane solution, applied with a paint brush or sprayer as near as possible to where the nests may be located. Chlordane is poisonous to people and pets, as well as to ants. Keep the insecticide away from children, pets, foods, dishes and cooking utensils. Be certain not to inhale the spray mist.

Tomatoes

Tomatoes are plentiful now. It's a good time to fill your pantry with the needed vitamin C for winter. Here is how to make tomato juice: Select firm, ripe tomatoes. Wash well and drain. Cut in sections. Add a small quantity of water to start cooking and simmer until softened. Stir occasionally to prevent burning. Sieve to remove seeds. Bring to boiling; fill containers immediately. Add 1 teaspoon salt to each quart of juice. Process all containers 15 minutes in boiling water.

JOINS PAUL HEWITT

MR. HENRY J. FREEMAN

Mr. J. Paul Hewitt, owner of Paul Hewitt Music Co., 216 Grammont St., together with Marvin Korinke, head of Hammond Organ Division at Hewitt's are pleased to announce the addition of Mr. Henry J. Freeman to their staff.

Mr. Freeman enjoys a wide reputation in the field of music, having a successful background of experience in the maintenance of all types of organs including electronic and pipe organ.

Before coming to Monroe, Mr. Freeman spent nine years as piano and organ consultant and service engineer with the Reynolds Piano Co., in Jacksonville, Florida.

At Paul Hewitt's, Mr. Freeman will be in charge of the Hammond Organ installations and maintenance department.

Mr. Freeman is married and has four children. He is a graduate of the Capitol Engineering School in Washington where he majored in electronics. During World War II he served four years with the U. S. Army Signal Corps. Mr. Freeman is a member of the American Guild of Organists and the American Academy of Organ. His hobbies include woodworking and fishing.

With the arrival of Mr. Freeman the Paul Hewitt Music Co., will be equipped to offer free advice and estimates of acoustical engineering for any church or home organ installations.—Adv.

News From The Public Library

June was such a busy month at the Ouachita Parish Public Library, and the librarian was away for the first two weeks in July, so that it has been quite some time since a column of news has appeared in this paper. However, we hope to resume it now as a regular weekly feature. Before we mention the new books, in which most readers of this column are primarily interested, we must tell you that the total number of books circulated by the Ouachita Parish Public Library in the month of June was 34,777. This is the largest circulation in the history of the library and is an increase of 4,730 over June one year ago, which was our largest circulation before this last month's record breaker. We attribute the large circulation to the participation of the children in the vacation reading club, which has a greater enrollment than ever before.

Although summer is not the busiest time in the publishing world, there have been a number of new books published and added to our library collection. One of the most important books of the summer is "The Flower Girls" by Clemence Dane. Those who loved "Broome Stages" which appeared several years ago, will want to read this new novel of a theatrical family. One reviewer said that this book makes one realize again the joy of a wholly civilized experience in reading. The library has several copies of the book and if you have not read it, call and put your name on the waiting list. A fantastic book, but one which makes us think, is "Not This August" by C. M. Kornbluth, a story set in the year 1965 and concerned with world politics.

A tender and moving story of the old west is "Cherokee" by Ed Newsom. This is a story of an Indian who wanted to be just John Nolan, American, and of his struggle to win a place in the white man's world, as well as to win the woman he loved. "Matt Regan's Woman" by Mary Brinker Post has its setting in the state of Washington and is concerned with the timber industry at the turn of the century. It is an interesting story and the love story should add to the appeal for women readers. "Mirage" by Margaret Evans Price is a well-written story of the early colonies of Florida. This is a subject on which few books have been written and it opens up a new vista in American history.

Gladys Schmitt is one of the major novelists today and she writes on a variety of themes. Her latest story "The Persistent Image" is the story of the complexities of marriage and divorce. She writes with depth and feeling and makes the reader fully realize the emotions involved. "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" by Sloan Wilson is the story of a very average American commuter, who seemed to be just like the other thousands of commuters who flooded out of Grand Central Station in the afternoons on their way to the suburbs. But beneath his groomed exterior he was obsessed with the days when he wore olive drab instead of gray flannel and of the men he had killed in combat. The novelist portrays faithfully the worries that chip away at the peace of mind of the post war generation. "The Last Temptation' by Joseph Viertel is a story with its setting in present day Israel and is one which should have a popular appeal.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. False. This action indicates possessiveness — about the best way to wreck a marriage. Often a wife says, "Well, it's all right, John, if you don't want to take my advice. I am only telling you for your own good." She is doing nothing of the sort. She is trying to assert her superiority — compensating for feelings of inferiority and insecurity. Same with husbands. When anyone tells you something for your own good—you may be sure it is to show his own importance.

Make the most of your marriage!

Dr. Wiggam's booklet, "Facing the Facts of Married Life," answers everything — pulls no punches. Send 15 cents (coin only) and self-addressel, stamped envelope (name city and stat) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. True. A young man who has never wept is a hard-boiled extrovert, careless of others' feelings. If his eyes have never been wet as he looked at a lovly sunset, a towering mountain, a river amid green hills, a sleeping baby, or a beautiful woman, he will never be rich in spirit. Old men who do not laugh have never found with Robert Louis Stevenson, "To miss the joy is to miss all."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. Three educators made a combined study of a large number of wilely used science books for fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. Fourth grade books were too hard; fifth, considerably above pupils' comprehension; sixth, slightly above. Many words were beyond their knowledge, sentences too long and complicated. It's amazing that we expect children to learn from books they can't read! All books should be measured for readability.

Complete 5 'Phone Relay Link Towers

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Five of 10 towers that will link Jackson, Miss. by a new radio relay route have been completed, Harry A. Cassady, Southern Bell Telephone Company district manager, said yesterday.

The system features a new type antenna called cornucopia or horn of plenty, which can handle many times the number of channels for long distance calls and network television programs possible on present equipment.

But Cassady said only five channels will be used on the new system when it first begins operation in October.

Two towers are on top of telephone company buildings in Jackson and Shreveport. Others are located in Vicksburg and Monroe and the remainder in rural areas.

The radio relay route will supplement the present coaxial cable, now carrying a maximum load. The route connects at Jackson with an existing radio relay path from Atlanta.

Cassady said that by October the new system would be open as far west as Dallas.

Jeddie R. Hodges Heads Red Cross

JENA, July 23 (Special) — Jeddie Ray Hodges, vocational agriculture teacher at Jena High School, has been named chairman of the LaSalle parish chapter of the Red Cross for the ensuing year, it was announced here this week following the annual board meeting.

Hodges succeeds Dr. W. D. Swackhamer as chapter chairman.

In addition to naming other officers and directors, appointing various chairman of the Red Cross divisions of work, the directors and officers also heard the executive secretary's annual report. Mrs. Ruth Englehorn of Alexandria, field representative for the central Louisiana area, presented awards and certificates to various officers, directors and chairmen for their services and achievements during the past year.

In addition to Hodges, other officers elected at the annual meeting were Murphy Tannehill of Urania, first vice chairman; Dr. Swackhamer, second vice chairman, and Blanchard Smith of Jena, treasurer. Mrs. Peggy Coleman was re-elected executive secretary of the chapter.

Directors for the ensuing year will be Marion Taylor, of the Fellowship community, Earl Doughty of Jena, Herbert Russell of Tullos, Lloyd Thompson of Walters, H. D. Jackson, of Trout, C. E. Doughty, of Little Creek, Haskell McBroom, of Zenoria, Fount Price, of Summerville, Mrs. Dave Joy, of Whitehall, Mrs. Homer Allbritton, of Olla, George Sheldon, of Goodpine, and Mrs. Sam Ezell, of Galvin Creek.

Service chairmen named include Sheriff D. Floyd, disaster preparedness; Ed Bass, first aid and water safety; Mrs. Wilma Frost, junior Red Cross; Mrs. Mildred Newman, public information; Mrs. A. B. Russell, home services; Mrs. Shirley Thompson, home nursing.

U. S. Air Force Bans Short Leather Pants

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Many young Bavarians wear leather shorts, called lederhosen, in summer. They're considered cool and comfortable.

Lots of American GIs and airmen stationed in Germany thought so, too. They started wearing lederhosen in off-duty hours.

But the U.S. Air Force doesn't like to see its knees in public places. It has banned lederhosen.

The leather pants head a list of what the well-dressed airman should not wear in public. Also taboo are blue jeans, cloth shorts, sweatshirts, T-shirts and zoot suits.

Airmen, says the order, "will refrain from wearing attire which borders on the sensational."

'Our Gang' Comedy Star Now A Burlesque Stripper

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD —UP— On television sets around the country a "new" favorite with the kiddies is an antique movie series of the '30's, "Our Gang Comedies," featuring a cuddly little girl called Shirley Jean.

While that child star is finding new fame with the small fry, the grown-ups can get a look at the present day Shirley Jean — doing bumps and grinds in a downtown burlesque theater.

The cute child star with the spit curls has grown up to be a slinky striptease dancer known as "Gilda."

"People are so amazed to hear I went from movies into burlesque," admitted Shirley Jean, or Gilda, as she sat in her modest dressing room backstage of the grind house on Main Street.

"Well, I'll tell you. I prefer burlesque because it's not so immoral as the movie business.

"Hollywood has turned into a rougher game than ever. Every girl is fair game. In the stripping profession, you get somewhere through your talent, not through somebody you're friendly with. When you get on that runway you have to hold your audience or you are a dead pigeon.

"I'm making more money than I did in movies. I like live audiences and I want to be a star. Burlesque is the only field of live show business left that you can't see on TV."

Shirley Jean, or Gilda, says she's 24 now. She was a star of "Our Gang" for five years, along with Spanky McFarland (recently seen on the George Gobel show), Farina (now touring with a small band), Alfalfa (he portrayed a 100-year-old Indian in a recent Robert Mitchum movie, "Track of the Cat"), Darla Hood (now a singer) and Jackie Cooper (still in show business.")

She then graduated to the Mickey McGuire comedies starring Mickey Rooney. Shirley played Tomboy Taylor in a topknot and plaid jacket for nearly three years.

At 12 she was a dancer in such musicals as "Meet the People."

She appeared in many Donald O'Connor pictures. A year and a half ago she began to train at the Follies Theater here as a stripper and since has toured the country.

She is billed as "Gilda and her crowning glory" because as she strips she lets her long blonde hair fall below her waist.

"Many adults come backstage after the show to get my autograph for their children who watch the 'Our Gang' comedies on TV," she smiled.

"I don't think the kids would mind if they knew what I do. I like burlesque. It's what a person is, not what they're doing. There are a lot of idiots who are secretaries."

James Lancaster Named Principal Of LaSalle High

JENA, July 23 (Special) — James Otto Lancaster, Jr., former assistant football coach at Ferriday High School, will be the new principal of the LaSalle High School of Olla, effective with the 1955-56 school year, it was announced here this week by F. H. Shiel, superintendent of LaSalle parish public schools.

Lancaster will succeed Roy Welch, who resigned to accept a position with the state department of education as assistant high school music supervisor.

A product of the Ferriday public schools, Lancaster is a graduate of Worsham College, Chicago, Ill., studied at John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio, under the navy V-12 program; took his B. S. degree in accounting and business administration at Northwestern State College Natchitoches, La., in 1949, and completed his master's work at Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., in 1954.

Following his graduation from N. S. C. Lancaster served there as veterans vocational counselor until September, 1950, when he took his present position at Ferriday High School as instructor in mathematics and assistant football coach.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Marathon Letters Prove You Can Reduce Weight

As those of you who have read "Why Grow Old?" for some time know, each summer I publish a few of the letters from Marathon Winners. These are interesting, human documents and also are helpful to those who need to reduce but have not yet done so.

It encourages us to know that someone else has succeeded where we wish to. It gives us a confidence that what others have done we can do if we really try. Each year tens of thousands of women join my Eight Weeks Self-Improvement Marathon to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks, under my direction.

Some of them fall by the wayside but thousands persevere until the goal is reached. I always enjoy these "result letters" from readers. Here is one of them.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"How happy I am! I never thought I could do it! But I did! I am in the eighth week of your Marathon and have lost a fat 19 pounds. When I started I weighed 176. I now weigh 157. I am going to continue until I weigh 137 pounds.

Almost Proportioned

"I was amazed that I lost so much because I did break over once in a while, but not often and not badly. Of course, I was fat all over but I had very large hips. My figure is almost in proportion now except that I would like to lose a little more in the hip measurement. How do I go about losing those last 20 pounds and reducing my hips more than the rest of my measurements?"

Congratulations to this reader, She should continue her calorie counting and concentrate on hip slimming exercises. She probably will experience some periods when weight loss will stand still, but if she goes right ahead sticking to her diet, soon the pounds will begin to melt away again.

Here is another short letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I started counting calories on January 3rd. At that time I weighed 189 pounds, about 40 pounds overweight for me. Today, eight weeks later, I weigh 163. Am I happy and thrilled? Ony someone who has lost 26 pounds can possibly know what this means to me!

"I came so close to giving up several different times but your encouraging words and what little will power I had kept me going."

Well, there are two of the succesful Marathon contestants. If you missed Marathon in January and would like to have my new revised Marathon booklet which gives you the routines these women used, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Marathon Just the Thing For You Young Mothers."

SHIRLEY BRIGGS

Start Baptists Will Conduct Its Annual Revival

The Rev. Shirley Briggs (above), pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ferriday, is the guest evangelist for a ten day series of revival services at the Start Baptist church.

Services started on July 21 and will be concluded Friday, July 29. The choir leader will be DeWitt Pickering, of Taylorsville, Miss.

Besides being a large instrument, your piano is also a very delicate one. So, when you clean it, don't touch the inside. Leave this to the expert who tunes it.

Bishop Martin To Address Int'l SS Meet In Cleveland

Bishop Paul E. Martin, Little Rock, head of the Arkansas - Louisiana area of the Methodist Church, will be one of the principal speakers at the 23rd international Sunday school convention in Cleveland, Ohio, July 27-31.

He will address the interdenominational convention, Thursday, July 28, on "The Church School Is Important."

Some 3,000 Methodist ministers, laymen, and church staff members from all over the world are expected to be among the thousands of Protestant church members who will attend the five - day meeting.

Bible study will be emphasized, and the convention theme will be "Teach Christ Now in Home and Church." Bible study and reading periods will be held to offer opportunity for personal use of the Bible during the convention sessions.

Methodists attending will conduct ten study and discussion groups dealing with the themes, "Reach the People," and "Improve the Program." Members of the staffs of the local church and editorial divisions of the general board of education of the Methodist Church will lead the discussions.

Members of all denominations will participate in Bible - emphasis programs consisting of discussions and addresses on "Christ Opens the Bible Now," "The Bible Speaks," and "Christ Speaks to Families Now."

CLAUDE M. SAILHAMER

Evangelists Of Note Slated In Big Tent Revival

Cangelist Claude M. Sailhamer, widely known preacher and Bible student and the Rev. James W. Carroway, known over TV and radio, will open a tent revival on Monday, July 25 and continuing for many successive nights in the Ouachita Fair grounds in West Monroe.

Evangelist Sailhamer is heard on a nation-wide broadcast and has traveled and preached in all 48 states, Canada, Mexico, Central America and the British Isles. He was with Billy Graham in the great London revival in March 1954 where there were 34,000 conversions. He also participated in the children's great rally in London with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans where 40,000 children heard the gospel, many for the first time.

Evangelist Sailhamer was formerly associated with R. G. Tourneau as chaplain of the Mississippi division of the Le Tourneau Company.

The Rev. James W. Carroway will lead in song and bring solos each night in his own inimitable style. He is frequently to be heard over the radio and TV. The many friends of these two prominent leaders anticipate a capacity attendance. One of the largest tents possible will be utilized to care for the large attendance. There are to be no services Sunday, but opening will be Monday at 7:30 p.m.

NAMED BY LEGION GROUP

SAN ANTONIO, July 22—UP—Mel Kincaid of Houston has been elected grand chef de Gare of the veterans' fun-making 40 and 8 of Texas. The Texas American Legion and about 4,000 delegates started a three-day convention in San Antonio Friday.

Original Hebrew Scroll Believed Used To Translate

One of the key figures in the discovery of the ancient Dead Sea scrolls believes that the Biblical finds are copies of an original Hebrew Bible used for the translation of the "Septuagint."

This opinion was expressed by Archbishop Mar Athanasius Yeshue Samuel, Metropolitan at the Monastery of Saint Mark, Jerusalem. The Metropolitan Samuel bought the scrolls from the Beduin boys, who in 1947 stumbled on what has been described as "the greatest manuscript discovery of modern times."

"It is not assuming too much to say that Eleazar, the High Priest of Jerusalem, before giving permission for the Bible to be translated from Hebrew into Greek, had already ordered that copies of the Hebrew Bible be made; one of these copies being miraculously preserved in the caves of Kumran," the Metropolitan states.

According to tradition, Ptolemy II, who ruled Egypt about 280 B.C., ordered the Hebrew Old Testament translated into Greek. He sent for the original scrolls of the Scriptures to the Great Temple in Jerusalem. High Priest Eleazar dispatched 72 rabbis, representing the 12 tribes of Israel, to translate the Scriptures, which came to be known as The Septuagint Bible.

Until discovery of the Kumran scrolls, the Septuagint Bible was the only old Testament extant which is known to date back to the pre-Christian era. It was the Bible text used by Jesus and the Apostles and the New Testament we use today quotes consistently from the Septuagint, rather than from the later version of the Old Testament.

In 1808, The Septuagint Bible was translated into English by Charles Thomson, first Secretary of the Continental Congress of the U. S. A., an intimate friend of Washington, Jefferson and Franklin. However, no edition of this translation was made available to the general public until the recent publication of Thomson's Septuagint Bible by The Falcon's Wing Press.

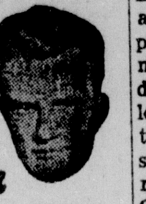
Bellevue Church To Hold Start Revival

JENA, July 23 (Special) — Revival services will begin Sunday at the Bellevue Baptist Mission Church in Jena, continuing through July 31, with the Rev. Filer Seal, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Olla, as the visiting evangelist.

This was announced this week by the Rev. J. P. Buth, pastor of the mission church, who will direct the congregational singing and have charge of special music for the revival services.

Norway's industrial capacity now is 80 per cent greater than in 1938.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham



QUESTON: A couple of years ago I became estranged from my church through the sharp tongue of one of the ladies. I withdrew completely. What should be done with people of sharp tongues and sarcasm? M. B.

ANSWER: The best thing to do is to ignore their remarks. The Bible says: "Love suffereth long, and is kind; love . . . is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil." (1 Corninthians 13:4,5). It isn't easy to do this, but if we want to be followers of Jesus we must try. For two long years you have been poisoning your mind and body with resentment. Stop now. Follow Christ's example and pray for the one who despitefully used you. See her as Christ sees her. When you meet her, act as if you had forgotten her caustic remarks. Better still, fill your mind so full of love that there will be no room for peevishness.

Next Sunday go back to your church. Once more worship God enter the church, center your thoughts on Christ. If the idea comes to your mind that some in the congregation are not Chrislike, remember that you have failed Him, too. You will find new joy when you obey Jesus' command: "Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you." (Luke 6:28).

Christians who are sincere in their faith have a goal. They are to "follow after" Jesus Christ to the very best of their ability and strive to be more Christ to the very best of their ability and strive to be more Christlike in every way. In the world of materials we know that quality is more important than quantity and gives much more satisfaction. It is true in the Christian life that we need to be better Christians, of a higher quality.
Seniors and Pioneers will meet here at the church this evening at six o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
No. 2nd at Auburn

"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, scientist, Sunday, July 24.

The golden text is: "Thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds. Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and they glory above all the earth" (Ps. 108, 4, 5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Ps. 25:5).

The lesson - sermon includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time - honored systems, knocks at the portal of humanity" (Pref. vii:13-15.)

PARISH WIDE REVIVAL
AT THE OUACHITA FAIR GROUNDS
BEGINNING MONDAY NIGHT—JULY 25TH
Continuing Each Week Night At 7:30

GUEST PREACHER—The Rev. R. F. Wyatt, chaplain for Louisiana Training Institute here and for the State Tuberculosis Hospital of Ruston, will preach in morning and evening services at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe Sunday. He will speak at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. The Rev. Wyatt is a graduate of the University of Virginia and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

Renwick Mission Will Initiate Its Revival Series

Renwick Mission, sponsored by Monroe's First Baptist Church, will begin a series of revival services today. Rev. Frank Nobley, young and effective pastor of the Mission, has secured the services of a fellow student at Louisiana College to do the preaching. Great gospel singing will be enjoyed. Week-day services will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The idea of a mission in the Renwick addition was born in the hearts of members of the Young Men's Bible Class of First Baptist Church, Monroe. Volunteers from the church held Sunday School each morning beginning in June, 1952. In a few weeks the people of the community began to hold prayer service. By mid-September the people were asking for church services. On October 17, 1952, Rev. Claude Henry Fortenberry was elected to preach at the morning services at the mission. A few months later due to increasing interest and attendance night preaching was begun. In the spring of 1953 a Training Union was organized.

The dates for the revival meeting are July 24-31.

Rev. Kirby Vining To Speak At Church

The Rev. Kirby Vining, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church in Monroe, will be guest speaker at the morning service hour at Gordon Avenue Methodist Church Sunday. The pastor is in the hospital confined there by a slight illness.

Travis Brown will fill the pulpit at the evening hour.

WILL LEAD REVIVAL—Rev. E. L. Hayes will open a youth revival in Linville Baptist Church today. There will be nightly services held through the remainder of the month and good attendance is said to be assured.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Feed Lawn More In Rainy Season

There is one thing we can't complain about this year—rain. Are you having too much at your house? These heavy rains tend to leach some of the nitrogen out of our soil so next winter remember to fertilize with a food that has a high first number—like 8-8-8. The lawn can take more feeding in rainy seasons, too.

Garden Jobs

Louisiana iris are dormant now, so this is a good time to transplant. Work plenty of humus in the soil as they like acid. Select a low damp place if you want more blooms. However, this iris will bloom in areas of ordinary moisture.

Early blooming gladiolus are dormant now. Most gardeners in this area don't bother to dig these corns at all and get very satisfactory results. However, they can be dug and stored if garden room is limited.

I have seen so many lovely flower arrangements made with canna leaves and blossoms, recently. Cannas are at their best at this season. Remember to dust weekly with DDT if you have canna leaf roller. Once a stem has bloomed out, remove it from the clump. This induces the growth of new stems which in turn produce blooms. A stem of canna buds is exotic and beautiful in a tall arrangement.

Staking is a must if you are growing dahlias or chrysanthemums. Don't let them get ahead of you in growth. Once a plant falls over you can never straighten it up again.

Our state garden specialist, Miss Winnona Chauffe says use malathion for summer spraying of camellias where scale is present. Oil spray used repeatedly in the summer will injure the plant, but there is no danger in malathion.

If you have a bed of maiden hair fern (a wonderful plant to grow in the shade) that looks scorched at this time of year, cut it back. Then give a light feeding and it will put out new again. Also keep the top pinched out of parsley to prevent it from going to seed. Mint needs some pinching too, since it is also inclined to go to seed. Mint really runs all over the place if you leave it alone.

Jes Wandering Around

Occasionally I get around to reading a mechanical magazine. Here's a good tip I found last night: An older-model refrigerator, not equipped with an automatic defroster, can be kept fairly frost free by shutting it off for one hour each day. In case you might forget—set the alarm. Frozen foods and ice cubes will not thaw out during the hour, and the main compartment keeps cool. I've tried this and it does delay defrosting. What housewife is there who does not dislike the defrosting job?

There will be no more splash and splatter from an electric mixer if you use a bowl cover of aluminum foil or plastic.

Another use for plastic—tape this time, tape to cover ragged edges of a bridge table, automobile seat cover or to mend a worn wallet. Available in six popular colors, red, blue, green, yellow, brown and white—they are said to be waterproof and impervious to oil, acid and prolonged sunlight.

Well—color in housewares is being taken up in a large way. Even a mop now in pink and charcoal hues will be on the market soon. Another new product to be seen soon at the housewares counters is an alarm clock that shuts off with a tap of the fingertips on the clock face. And—a magnetic mop is in the making that catches dust the way a magnet catches iron.

Food News

Broiler and fryer chickens along with canned grapefruit sections lead the July and August plentiful foods. Choice beef should continue in plentiful supply, both high and low grades. Mothers will want to keep more milk in the refrigerator for the youngsters. Vegetable fats and oils are at a new low—so low priced that it is wise for the homemaker to stock back a few containers. Generous supplies of both rice and lard will continue through August.

By the way—the new wax seal for meat is said to keep frozen meat good indefinitely, and refrigerated meat good for one week or more. The preserver is a plastic that forms a tight seal. About one hour of thawing makes the wax peel as easily as a banana skin, and the meat is ready for cooking.

Dates

Your programs for "Open House" next week are as follows: Monday, Edith Doughty and 4-H Club members from LaSalle Parish will give a fine demonstration; Tuesday, Julia Ann Wooley will show the children how to make a doll house and furniture; Wednesday, Mary Margaret Jardine will be here with the flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center and we'll do some gardening Thursday, we will observe National Vegetable Week by preparing a number of different recipes; Friday is marketing day.

During the month of August, every Wednesday for thirty minutes you will see outstanding flower arrangers in north Louisiana build arrangements for you—beginning with an empty container. Something to look forward to, isn't it?

See you next Sunday.

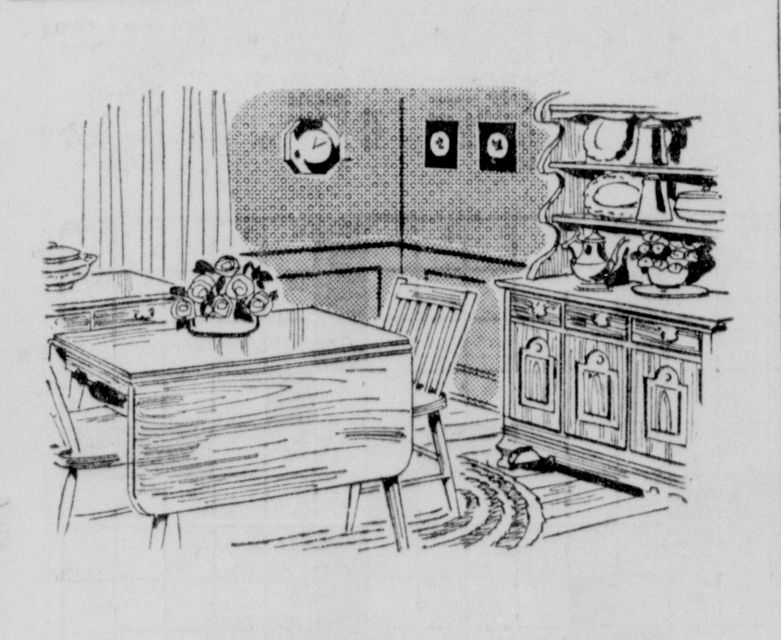
SPEAKING OF DECORATING
...by Bundrick's of Shreveport



MADE FOR EACH OTHER

Which comes first in planning a room, the background or the furniture? We are asked this question very frequently. Our answer is, usually — the furniture. Why? Because if you are starting from scratch, chances are you'll decide on a particular style of furniture and build a suitable background around it. Or, if you already have furnishings, there will always be some pieces that you feel you must get along with, and, or others that you cherish for sentimental reasons and want to keep. Often these set the mood and tone of the room and suggest the background.

This was the case in the provincial dining room sketched above. The lovely maple drop-leaf table, an heirloom, was used as a starting point. To this was added the open hutch, chairs, and server — all maple — all faithful reproductions of tried-and-true favorites.

Then green was chosen for the dominant background color to play up the burnished beauty of the maple pieces. The painted dado (soft green) was topped by a small-print provincial type wallpaper that repeats the rich tones of green and yellow in the braided rug. Here is a room where the background and furnishings were literally made for each other.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Scilla Peruviana --A Star Blossom

Now is the time to order bulbs of the large bulb called Scilla peruviana. It is one of the most worthwhile plants any one can have in a garden. In a week or so after you set out the big bulbs, the leaves will begin to come through the ground. If the bulbs never flowered, the foliage alone would be worth growing because it is evergreen and makes a big show in the garden during the dead of winter with its rosettes of inch wide leaves lying flat on the ground. Sometimes the winter hurts the foliage a bit, but it never gets killed by the cold. When the warm spring rains come and wake up the fat bud down inside the bulb, the leaves rise and assume an erect position.

The flowers of Scilla peruviana are wheels of small star shaped blossoms which bloom in concentric circles, beginning at the outside. They are mostly bright deep blue, but occasionally you may get a white one. You will be lucky if you do because the white ones are stunning. As the result of some plant breeding that is being done with these scillas, there are now some light yellow hybrids, light blue ones and a number of other color combinations. In a few years, these ought to begin to appear in catalogues of unusual bulbs.

Plant this big scilla where you will enjoy its wheel of evergreen leaves all winter. Right by your doorway is a good spot. Each wheel of the bright deep blue flowers lasts nearly two weeks, and then a very strange thing happens: the flower stalk elongates from its eight inches to as much as two feet and the little stems with their seed pods are carried up on the stem and distributed in a perfect spiral staircase arrangement. You can plant the seeds and use the spirals for dried arrangements in winter. The seeds will germinate very readily. It will take four or five years in rich soil to get blooms from the new bulbs, but the evergreen foliage makes them worthwhile during their development. Rabbits will be your worst enemy. They love the foliage of this bulb and will eat the ends of the leaves when they can get to them.

Scilla peruviana comes from North Africa and the Mediterranean in spite of its name. It is one of a group of very large scillas. The others are mostly in hot parts of Africa and will not live out of doors for us. Our spring flowering "English blue-bells" are, of course, scillas, too. Plant all scillas in rich woods soil to which bone meal has been added. Scilla peruviana is a gross feeder. It will not bloom often in poor soil, so do not starve it. In some years, it takes a rest and does not flower, but if you feed it well, it does not do this. Plants several bulbs, and at least one will be in bloom every spring in a week or so after the English bluebell type has flowered. If you cannot find this bulb in your catalogues, send a self addressed postal and request to the column in care of this newspaper, and we shall be glad to supply the names of some bulb dealers who have it.

GETS LAST LAUGH

DAY CAMP—6

A Puppet Pirate

Why not make a puppet at your home day camp?

Boys and girls living in ancient Greece played with puppets, so when you make yours remember what a long history is behind it.

Some puppets are like stuffed dolls with joints and are worked with a string. These are called marionettes. They are often large and finely made with beautiful costumes. They act out plays in actual little theaters and a great deal of skill is needed to operate them.

Some puppets are called hand puppets. They slip on your hands like gloves, with your fingers and thumb moving the head and hands of the puppet. The Punch and Judy plays in England use this kind.

Then there are joined cardboard dolls that can be bent in various positions, like the wicked pirate pictured here.

Paste this page on cardboard. Color it with crayons or poster paints in the bright colors you think pirates would want to wear.

Carefully cut out all the parts and fasten them together with brass fasteners which will look like brass buttons on the suit.

Slip the arms behind the shoulders of the coat, put the tab on the head inside the collar, put the legs behind the skirts of the coat. Then insert the brass fasteners in the round holes and bend them back.

Now your pirate can bend his head sideways, and move his arms and legs in every position. If you bend both legs at right angles he will sit down for you.

You can use your pirate for acting out stories. Be sure to make your voice deep and booming when you talk for him.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Design Of Fruit, Foliage Wins Top Honors

The Garden Study Club of Monroe and West Monroe presented a beautiful and colorful blue ribbon show this week at the Garden Center. Mrs. Lamonte Wright and Mr. John A. Wright of Ruston served as judges. First place blue ribbon in the arrangement section was awarded to Mrs. John P. Lewis. The class theme was "Arrangements without Flowers." Mrs. Lewis created a most arresting design using fruits, vegetables and foliage. A bamboo raft in natural color was used for a container on which the arrangement was placed. Four banana stalks of varying lengths were used for height, coleus leaves in shades of yellow green formed a background for the design of peppers in shades of yellow to orange, purple grapes, green osage oranges and brilliant orange solanum fruits (love-apple). The color harmony was most pleasing and the variety of textures and forms very interesting Mrs. Archie Dickerson was awarded second place. Mrs. Dickerson created a distinctive design in colors of yellow green and red-violet. A vase of simulated marble in tones of lavender gray was used. This was placed on a small round black vase. Red - violet wandering Jew was used to delineate the design with the yellow - green coleus, veined with red - violet enhancing the line and completing the design. A subtle and restful color harmony. Mrs. R. B. Henry was awarded third place. For her arrangement Mrs. Henry used a green pillow vase shading into brown and set on a brown rectangular base. Slender brown syringa branches stripped of their foliage were arranged in a rhythmic pattern. Acalypha leaves of brown shading into red followed the lines of the design A cluster of red castor bean foliage tipped with green was placed in the center of the design. This arrangement was characterized by a feeling of motion. In the horticulture blue ribbons were awarded as follows. Mrs. John Lewis for yellow day lily, Mrs. Morris Harrison for green and white caladiums and Mrs. R. B. Henry for Floribunda rose, variety Elsie Poulsen. Mrs. Harrison also exhibited a most beautiful specimen of Sago Palm (Cycas revoluta) and a large pot of red and green caladiums.

The Garden Center library has received as gifts several wonderful books this week. They are: "Small Fruit Culture" by James S. Shoemaker. This book covers the culture and care of grapes, strawberries, bramble - fruits, currants, blueberries, etc Another wonderful addition is "General Horticulture' by the same author, and "Garden Bulbs in Color" by J. Horace McFarland, also Gloeckner's "Year - Around Chrysanthemum Manual" and Gloeckner's "Carnation Manual." All the aforementioned were presented to the Garden Center by John A. Wright, professor of floraculture, Louisiana Tech. Charles G. Hobgood, professor of horticulture at Tech has presented us with "Commercial Fertilizers," by Gilbeart H. Collings, and "The Nature and Properties of Soils" by T. Lyttleton Lyon and Harry O. Buckman. Mr. Hobgood has compiled a list of fertilizers and the rate of application for flowers and ornamentals in this area. He has given us a supply of mimeographed copies. If you are interested in this chart please call at the Garden Center for your copy.

We are very pleased to learn that Caroline Dorman is working industriously on the additional drawings for her wild flower book. The new title will be "Wild Flowers of Louisiana and the Gulf Coast" Don't know the publication date yet but we'll keep you posted.

Safety Commission Lauds Alexandria

BATON ROUGE — UP — The Louisiana Safety Commission today named the free motor vehicle safety check program in Alexandria the best in the state.

Mrs. Ruth Vaughan, safety coordinator, said the award was made through the national safety council, the Inter-Industry Highway Safety committee and a national magazine.

The Alexandria program, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, checked some 6,665 vehicles.

'Foxfire' Hailed As Action-Packed Crowd Pleaser

Combining the acting talents of Jane Russell, Jeff Chandler, Dan Duryea and Mara Corday with a compelling screen-play by Ketti Frings, Universal - International's "Foxfire," next attraction at the Jim Theater, is a definite crowd-pleaser in the field of entertainment.

From the best - selling novel by Anya Seton, Miss Frings has woven an action - packed and romantic screenplay which never fails to hold the auditor's interest. Technicolor photography enhances "Foxfire," which was filmed on location in the vast and colorful desert land of Arizona.

Briefly the story concerns a wealthy eastern socialite who meets and falls in love with a rugged western mining engineer while vacationing at an Arizona dude ranch. Their personalities, so different in nature, begin to clash almost at the last note of the wedding march. How their marriage goes on the rocks until a compatible solution is found is told in a poignant and forceful manner.

As the young lady with eastern ideals who meets the young man with western ideas, Jane Russell scores effectively in a tailored-to-order role. Jeff Chandler is equally effective as Miss Russell's co-star, turning in one of the finest performances of his career.

Always a dependable performer, Dan Duryea does an excellent job in his role of a mining camp doctor who attempts to win the affections of Miss Russell during her matrimonial tiff with Jeff. Sharing honors with Duryea in a top supporting role is Mara Corday, a comparative newcomer destined for certain stardom.

"Foxfire" was produced by Aaron Rosenberg and directed by Joseph Pevney.

The bidding:
South, 1 spade; West, pass; North, 3 spades; East, pass; South, 4 spades; West, pass; North, pass; East, pass;

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

Bringing in a 10 trick contract in the face of four enemy tricks seems to be a contradiction in terms; yet declarer in today's hand produced this paradox and chalked up a spade game.

The contract was reached in the most direct and logical manner. North could see no advantage in complicating matters by an approach bid of two hearts. His hand was the equal of an opening bid. He was well satisfied with spades, and preferred to discharge his obligation by telling all at once.

West opened the king of diamonds and there seemed nothing to it but the scoring until the play of a high spade disclosed that East had two natural trump tricks. Since a diamond and a club loser were inevitable, it appeared that the contract must go on the rocks. But declarer found another way of counting. Six tricks in aces and kings, a diamond ruff in dummy makes seven, and if declarer can ruff three hearts in his own hand, the total will be 10.

After the first two tricks he returned a diamond, preparing for the ruff. West won, and returned a club. The ace of hearts was followed by a heart ruff in the closed hand. Now dummy was given a diamond ruff, and declarer ruffed another heart. The high club put dummy in once more, and permitted declarer to use his last trump on another heart.

What is the solution to this paradox? Simply that the defenders were compelled to duplicate their winners. At the time that West's good club trick was established, East had nothing but high trumps so that West's good queen of clubs was taken by East's good queen of trumps. You see the payoff is on winners, and South found 10.

Advertise For Bids On Old River Work

NEW ORLEANS — UP — Invitations for bids on initial construction for the Old River closure control structure have been sent out, Col. William H. Lewis, U. S. district engineer, disclosed today.

He said bids will be opened Aug. 17 at the district office here for construction of a low sill control structure.

Congress recently appropriated $2.2 million for initial construction work The entire project is expected to take eight to 10 years and cost roughly $88 million.

Actors In Las Vegas

By VAN JOHNSON
Guest Columist

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 — Las Vegas has turned out to be the greatest thing for actors since the buskin. I don't mean the dice tables or the slot machines or the swimming pools or even those astronomical paychecks.

But the stages of the Las Vegas hotels have become a lively, attention -getting showcase for a lot of Hollywood people who not only needed a personal contact with audiences but a refresher course in the fundamentals of show business.

Me, I know. It never applied to anybody more than to this actor. After a tour of duty at MGM playing dry to Esther Williams' wet and doing everything else that is expected of a so-called leading man, I found myself wallowing lazily in a rut. That was two years ago. When somebody mentioned whipping up a song-and-dance act for the Sands, I thought they must have been talking of two other guys— like for instance Danny Kaye or Frank Sinatra, who are as comfortable in front of a nightclub audience as I am in front of a hot fudge sundae at Wil Wright's.

But anyway, I got around to doing it, and it was the greatest morale booster I've ever had in show business. It was rough, facing all those people twice a night, and there were many times I hated myself for undertaking such an engagement and swore on the Box Cars that I'd never do it again, so help me. But when it was all over, I discovered that my whole viewpoint as far as being an actor was concerned had changed. I was a new man. And in my own case, I found that it has helped me immeasurably in both the screen roles I've got since and the way I approached them. Maybe it's a batter of additional confidence, or maybe it's simply a matter of having proved to myself that I was able to do something I thought was impossible.

At any rate, I am sure that a lot of other Hollywood people who have made the frightening journey from the comparative ease and relaxation of a film set to the hectic awesome nightclubs of Vegas have got the same new charge and stimulation out of it.

If there's anything an actor needs from time to time, it's a good jolt out of his canvas-back chair. A turn at Vegas will do it. Working alongside, and in front of, some real pros will keep a man alert as nothing else in the world. You can't goof off and allow that the next "take" will be better. Each one's got to be the best.

I've heard other people from Hollywood discuss their experiences as nightclub entertainers, and they all say the same thing. They also say that every time they go on the stage, they're as frightened as they've ever been in their lives. Even now, for a fine case of busy butterflies in the midriff all I have to think about is that sea of faces leering up at me and defying me to prove that I can amuse them. And I'll always remember the lady with the purple hair at a ringside table who gazed up at my vest nightclub amile, poked her escort in the ribs, and in the voice of a top sergeant said, "Look, Louie, he's got gold fillings!"

The other day on the "Miricle in the Rain" set at Warners I was telling Jane Wyman about the nightclub bit, and sure enough, the butterflies flew back, the palms got damp, the voice became unsteady. I pounded a fist against her dressing table and said, "No, mam, I'll never go through it again!" That was a lie. I'll go through it again all right, just to recharge my batteries as an actor. As a matter of fact, the very next day I discussed a return engagement at the Sands with Jack Entratter. Bring on your butterflies!

EDITORIAL NOTE: I have talked with scores of movie stars who, after many years before the cameras, found it difficult to face a real aucience — where there can be no re-takes. The first lines must be the last on first night or second night or any night after the opener. Stage fright — just as it was in the beginning. But appearing before a critical audience and seeing eyes staring at one and hearing voices, is an experience the actor never forgets.

Las Vegas has been a fine proving ground for the movie star. Not only has the gambling capital replenished purses in double-quick time, but it has restored to the actor a confidence and a new life that have served him well upon returning to the screen.

TEACHER MENACED—Caught in a school library after hours, teacher Margaret Hayes is menaced by a husky student, Peter Miller, in a tense scene from "Blackboard Jungle," a new M-G-M drama centering on today's juvenile delinquency problem. "Blackboard Jungle" starts today at the Jim Theater.

At The Theatres

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Today through Tuesday — "How to Be Very, Very Popular" starring Betty Grable and Sheree North, filmed in color and CinemaScope.

Wednesday and Thursday — "Magnificent Matador" starring Maureen O'Hara and Anthony Quinn, filmed in color and CineMaScope.

Starting Friday — "Strategic Air Command" starring James Stewart and June Allyson, filmed in Technicolor.

Jim Theatre

Starts today: M-G-M's "Blackboard Jungle," starring Glen Ford, Anne Francis, Louis Calhern and Margaret Hayes. A drama of teen-age terror. The story they said was too hot to film.

Next attraction: "Foxfire" starring Jane Russell and Jeff Chandler. Jane has Jeff living every impassioned page of Anya Seton's thrilling novel. In color by technicolor.

Coming: Walt Disney's "The Lady and the Tramp." A full length feature cartoon.

GRAND JURY TO ACT

HOUSTON, July 22—UP—District Attorney Dan Walton said Friday that the Crosby, Tex., vote fraud case, which involves four election officials, probably will be presented to the Harris county grand jury Monday or Tuesday.

First indictments against the four officials turned out to be "faulty." The alleged fraud took place in the last gubernatorial election.

FRIDAY AT PARAMOUNT—The mammoth inter-continental bombers of the Air Force's atomic striking arm play a dramatic role in the lives of James Stewart and June Allyson, co-stars of "Strategic Air Command," which begins Friday at the Paramount Theater. Paramount's thundering VistaVision and Technicolor epic gives the nation a magnificent glimpse into the lives of the men and women of the Air Force's most secret branch.

'Strategic Air Command' Tabbed As All-Time High

Day after day and night after night for the past nine years American cities have been the target for long-range bombers drilling unseen through the skies at tremendous altitudes. Yet, few people across the nation have been aware of the operation, though that's not as strange as it seems. For those planes belong to the U. S. Air Force's strategic Air Command, and the bombs with which they have "destroyed" every major industrial area in the country have never left their bomb bays. The "raids," The Strategic Air Command's method of keeping its planes and men constantly trained to combat conditions, have been until recently the most carefully kept secret of the decade.

But now the secret is out—in as grippingly authentic a presentation as the operation itself. Beginning next Friday, Paramount's thundering drama of the most potentially destructive striking force the world has ever known, "Strategic Air Command," will roar across the screen of the Paramount Theatre.

The tremendously vital film, which stars James Stewart and June Allyson, offers a sensational bonus of four top-flight co-stars as well: Frank Lovejoy, Barry Sullivan, Alex Nicol and Bruce Bennett, and a superlative group of featured players.

The Air Force's Strategic Air Command with which the picture deals, has a mission unlike any previous service branch's. Armed with man's most fearsome weapons, the A- and the H-bomb, its purpose is to remain so strong, so alert and well-trained, that no nation will dare to attack us. And if an attack should come, the Command must be ready at an instant's notice to retaliate at any point on the globe. That purpose demands super-planes and supermen to fly them. It is of these incredible planes and astounding men that "Strategic Air Command" treats, with results that all advance reports have tabbed as an all-time high in aeronautical and dramatic thrills.

"Strategic Air Command" is not a war story; it is a keep-the-peace story, and a revealing, intimate glimpse into the lives of bomber pilot James Stewart and his lovely wife, June Allyson. Stewart, a big-league baseball star, is recalled to active duty at the height of his career, and because the Strategic Air Command needs experienced, wiser pilots, is assigned to that branch. His problems, frustrations and rewards in a service that has changed radically since his last stint, and Miss Allyson's emotional reactions to their separation at a time when she thought their life together was secure promise a story that ranges from the touchingly tender to the daring and powerful.

So tremendous are the natural backgrounds of "Strategic Air Command" that Paramount recruited all the technical skill and experts at its command to film it. Produced in VistaVision and in color by Technicolor, the drama will present never-before-seen aerial sequences that preview audiences have said stagger the imagination.

Final Rites Held For Pineville Tot

PINEVILLE, La. —UP— Final rites were held today for an 11-months-old boy who hanged himself when his head slipped through the bars of his crib.

The child, Kirt Neal Detwiler, was the son of Lt. and Mrs. Barry N. Detwiler of England Air Force Base. The parents found the boy dead when they awakened yesterday.

Dr. W. L. Murrell, Rapides parish coroner, said the baby had been dead for several hours. He ruled the death accidental.

Mississippi Traffic Deaths On Upgrade

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Traffic deaths in Mississippi jumped 100 per cent in cities and five per cent in rural areas during the first six months of this year.

The highway safety patrol said today the overall traffic death rate is up 13 per cent from the first six months of 1954.

The March death rate raised the state's total with 49 killed, more than double that of March 1954.

As of June 30, the total deaths was 213 killed on highways and 32 in cities.

Brig. Gen. T. B. Birdsong, commissioner of Public Safety, attributed the increase to congested traffic in municipalities.

Rain Fall For 1955 Way Ahead Of 1954 Record

JENA, July 23 (Special)—"And the rains came pouring down . . ."

A total of 8.70 inches during a one-week period in LaSalle parish.

And—of the total 8.70 inches during the week, 6.08 inches fell in one 24-hour period, from 8 a.m. July 13 to 8 a.m. July 14.

Meanwhile, figures released this week by the Louisiana forestry commission's District 3 headquarters at Olla revealed that the five towers of the district all report that more rain already has fallen this year (through July 19) than fell all of last year.

If it doesn't rain another drop between now and next Jan. 1, the final total for 1955 will show that already more rain has fallen in District 3 (including LaSalle, Winn, Grant, Caldwell and Catahoula parishes) than fell during the entire year of 1954.

From the Belah tower in LaSalle parish, the report points out that through July 19 of this year a total of 39.98 inches of rain has been recorded. This compares to 38.46 inches of rain for the entire year of 1954.

The Winona tower in Winn parish lists 42.57 inches of rain through July 19 of this year. For the entire year of 1954, a total of 35.91 inches of rain was recorded.

Rainfall at the Antonia tower in Grant parish through July 19 this year totals 39.40 inches; for the entire year 1954 only 32.20 inches of rain was recorded.

Mt. Pleasant tower in Caldwell parish also shows more rain to date than for all of 1954, with 36.65 inches listed through this July 19 compared to 34.56 inches for entire 1954.

Aimwell tower in Catahoula parish draws the closest margin, with 39.67 inches listed to July 19 this year, compared to 39.01 inches for all of 1954.

The 6.08 inches of rain listed at the Belah tower in LaSalle parish for the 24-hour period of July 13-14 was more rain than was recorded for any month of 1954, through July, except May, and was more than the total for any month in 1955 except February and April. The 8.70 inches of rain recorded at Belah tower in the past week was more than any month so far this year and more than any month in 1954. Rainfall in May, 1954, totaled 14.40 inches which was more than half of the total 27.98 inches of rain recorded in the first seven months of 1954.

For the month of July, this year, through Wednesday, the 20th, a total of 9.99 inches of rain has been recorded.

July, to date, April, February and January have been the wettest months of the year, so far, with each totaling more than 5 inches of rain. March, with 1.09 inches, was the driest, followed by May and June. The average for the first seven months this year (through July 19 and counting the first 19 days of July as a whole month) comes to 5.71 inches. This compares to an average of 3.99 inches per month for the first seven months of 1954.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — UP — Mrs. Richard Schwartz told police she walked into a restaurant wearing a $500 Persian lamb coat and left with a $200 one. Mrs. Schwartz said someone switched the coats while she was dining and "took it on the lam."

Alexandria Paper Receives Award

ALEXANDRIA, La. —UP— The Alexandria Town Talk today was presented the American Legion's journalism award as "the newspaper in Louisiana which gave the best treatment of Legion Americanism" during the past year.

The newspaper and its managing editor, Adras LaBorde, also were cited for service to the American Legion.

The citations were announced at the 37th annual convention of the Louisiana Department of the Legion which ends tomorrow.

A plaque was presented to LaBorde at the Legion business session by Charles Fowler, state chairman of the Legion publication commission.

In an acceptance statement, LaBorde said he was humbly appreciative of the honor conferred upon him and his newspaper by such a great organization as the Legion. But he said it was somewhat of a sad commentary upon current history that anyone entrusted with the safe-guarding of the ideas of American journalism should have to be rewarded for doing "his clear cut duty."

The citations praised the newspaper and LaBorde for "adhering without deviation to a policy of old fashion Americanism both in the news columns and editorial comment."

Chittagong, the principal port of East Pakistan, is a bustling city of 260,000 people. It has trebled its population since 1941. In 1946-47 the port shipped only 5,566 tons of jute. In the fiscal year 1950-51 it handled 370,000 tons.

It's that DIAL feeling—

you never worry about odor!

More than a feeling, it's a fact: with Dial Soap you never worry about perspiration odor. You see, normal perspiration has no odor until skin bacteria go to work on it. And ordinary soaps just can't get rid of bacteria effectively. But Dial Soap does. It removes up to 95% of these odor-causers, because Dial is the one leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good for keeping odor away. Dial's AT-7 clings to your skin, so it protects you all day—and several days if need be. That's why folks who use Dial every day say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap. Dial stops odor before it starts.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?

EVERY TIME I TAKE YOUR ADVICE IT COSTS ME MONEY.
I-- I'M SORRY, UNCLE LUCKY.
CRANE 3
YOU'RE A DRATTED HOODOO.
IF YOU THINK MY ADVICE IS SO BAD, YOU SHOULD CONSULT ME ABOUT MAKING INVESTMENTS, THEN DO THE OPPOSITE OF WHAT I ADVISE.
NOW THERE'S AN IDEA! A BRILLIANT IDEA, NEPHEW!
WE'LL BEGIN NOW. HERE'S A FILLING STATION THAT RENTS FOR $200 A MONTH.
AND HERE'S A VACANT HOUSE. WHICH SHOULD I BUY?
IT'S OBVIOUS, UNCLE LUCKY. THE FILLING STATION.
FINE. I'LL DO JUST THE OPPOSITE OF WHAT YOU ADVISE AND BUY THE VACANT HOUSE.
WEEK LATER:
DRAT IT ALL! LOOK-- THE HOUSE FELL DOWN! YOU'VE COST ME MONEY AGAIN!
GOSH! MAYBE YOU SHOULD HAVE TAKEN MY ADVICE.

The PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY
MARK OF THE PHANTOM-- ON THEIR JAWS!
HE IS HERE-- AMONG US!
WE LOOKED FOR HIM-- HE FOUND US!
HE HAS FOUND US! GREAT KRATAN, WHAT WILL WE DO?
FOOLS! COWARDS! HE IS ONE. WE ARE SCORES! WE ARE THE HUNTERS-- THE KILLERS! RETURN TO THE CRESCENT ALTAR!
HERE, FOR A THOUSAND YEARS, WE OF THE CRESCENT CULT HAVE CHOSEN OUR VICTIM! NOW-- IT IS THE PHANTOM!
I WILL DRAW THE NAME OF ONE OF US WHO WILL BE THE ASSASSIN-- AS IS OUR CUSTOM! I DRAW--
THE NAME I'VE DRAWN WILL HAVE THE HONOR OF SEARCHING THESE RUINS, FINDING THE PHANTOM AND -- UH ?!!
THE PHANTOM HAS BEEN HERE! HIS MARK IS ON THIS SLIP! WE MUST FIND HIM-- OR ALL BE DESTROYED! SEARCH THE RUINS-- ALL OF YOU!
AND AS THE ASSASSINS SEARCH THE RUINS OF THE ANCIENT TEMPLE OF MOON-WORSHIPPERS --
A GANG OF FANATIC KILLERS ON THE PROWL FOR ME. I'VE GOT TO MOVE FAST!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK BY LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY
WHAT'D YOU SEE, TIM?
NOTHING, SPUD-BUT I DID HEAR A WEIRD NOISE!
MAYBE IT'S WEEGEE, THE WITCH DOCTOR!
NO-THERE IS THE CULPRIT!
OOH~ EEEE~ OOOOH~ EEEEEEE
WEEGEE MAY BE A GREAT MAGICIAN, BUT EVEN HE COULDN'T CHANGE HIMSELF INTO A BIRD, OR ANYTHING ELSE—
BUT ONCE HE LEARNS WE'VE COME TO ARREST HIM, HE'LL TURN HIS WHOLE BAG OF TRICKS LOOSE ON US—OHO— A NATIVE FAMILY!
WEEGEE IS TO BE FOUND IN THE VILLAGE YONDER! BEWARE OF HIS MYSTERIOUS POWERS! HE IS FEARED BY ALL—
WE HAVE COME TO TAKE HIM AWAY FROM YOUR PEOPLE, FRIEND—
OUR JOB ISN'T GOING TO BE EASY-OR SAFE, PAL!
I'M CERTAIN WEEGEE IS A FAKE MAGICIAN, SPUD —AND WE'LL PROVE IT!
MEANWHILE....
